

Senate Approves Disputed Bills

By DAN MURPHY

The Student Senate closed up shop Wednesday, overriding AS President Bob McConnell's veto of the finance bill and endorsing two far reaching resolutions as final legislative acts.

McConnell's veto was based on an objection to a cut in the Rodeo Club's budget. Reading of the veto caused embarrassed hesitation in the Senate chambers. It was either override the veto or do some on-the-spot rewriting of the long, detailed finance bill.

The rewriting would have required a suspensor of Senate rules, since two bills on the same subject cannot be introduced at any one senate session. If Bill 291 was not rewritten or the veto passed over, ASASU could have been without funds next year.

"We run the risk of losing the Senate's power to appropriate money to student government," graduate Sen. John Moore said after the two thirds majority needed to overrule the veto was not obtained.

In response to Sen. Bud Scribner's query "What would happen if the veto wasn't overruled?", Speaker John Herrick said: "Unless the rules are suspended, there would be no finance bill this session."

One nay vote and a "present" vote were changed to aye, bringing the tally to 19 ayes, 9 nays and one present. The necessary two thirds majority was achieved.

Senate resolution three, asking the Board of Athletic Control to reconsider providing funds for the Soccer team to compete nationally finally passed after a seesaw voting sway.

"The wording, such as 'the soccer club should be an official ASU team for competitive purposes' is really sloppy," said Sen. Steve Yarbrough in preliminary discussion of the resolution. Largely as a result of Yarbrough's comments, the Committee of the Whole recommended "do not pass" on the measure.

A brief plea for passage of the resolution in which the senators were charged with being "Paper tigers who are afraid of the powers on the Board of Athletic Control," was delivered by Scribner.

Freshman Sen. Jerry Ferguson who sponsored the proposal, added "I don't know what happened. The whole purpose of the resolution was to ask the Board to consider funding the Soccer team, taking the financial burden away from the senate."

Senate members responded by passing the resolution.

The controversial resolution to define student freedoms, S.R. 4, was withdrawn by unanimous vote in view of the unfavorable outcome of last week's open hearing.

Library Slows Loan Service

Only those students with pre-registration summer school receipts can continue checking out University library materials after May 22, said Dr. Kenneth Slack, assistant librarian.

All books checked out from now to May 19 will have a May 9 due date. During the week of May 22-26, books will be loaned overnight for special purposes, said Dr. Slack.

Court Convicts Mumbaugh For Fatal Stabbing of Coed

By VALERIE JONES

David R. Mumbaugh was convicted yesterday of first degree murder for the fatal stabbing Sept. 21 of Laura Ellen Bernstein and informally sentenced to life imprisonment by Superior Court Judge George B. Sterling.

Formal sentencing is set for May 15 at 9:30 a.m. Before reading the verdict, Judge Sterling overruled or denied all requests and motions previously made by defense attorneys Robert Corcoran and Jay Dushoff. He also denied any future motions with those denied.

Corcoran had requested that certain exhibits not be admitted as evidence in the trial. These included photographs of grill work at the Casa Loma Hotel where Miss Bernstein's body was found and a blood-stained shirt allegedly worn by Mumbaugh the night of the murder.

"It is now the decision, finding and or verdict of the court that David R. Mumbaugh is guilty of murder in the first degree," said Judge Sterling.

Mumbaugh's trial began and ended Monday in 68 minutes. He waived his right to a jury trial last week. Only one witness was called to testify and one question was asked.

Prosecutor Harold D. Martin called to the stand Detective Sgt. Dale Douglas of the Tempe Police Department. Douglas' testimony was necessary to determine that a homicide was committed and that it was within the jurisdiction of the City of Tempe.

Douglas identified himself and stated that he had investigated the death of Miss Bernstein.

Defense and prosecution both rested following the testimony. Thirty-four exhibits were accepted as evidence in the trial.

A knife submitted as evidence in the trial and belonging to Sgt. Douglas was misidentified by Mumbaugh as his own the night he was arrested.

Miss Bernstein's body was found Sept. 21 on a darkened veranda of the Casa Loma Hotel, Fourth Street and Mill.

Mumbaugh reported finding the body to police and said that he had been looking at used cars in a nearby lot with a friend when he saw it.

Mumbaugh has been held without bond since his arrest. He is a 1966 graduate of Tempe High School and worked as a draftsman for the engineering section of the Arizona Highway Department.

Tempe Beach 'Love-in' Raises Budget Issue

The question of whether or not the state legislature has the power to cut off funds to ASU because of the public appearance of university "hippies" at a "love-in" was raised Monday night.

Rep. James Shelley and Rep. Walter Bloom, both Maricopa County Republicans, spoke at the yearly meeting, the purpose of which was to inform Legion members about legislation passed during the last session.

ASU was brought into the picture when a Tempe citizen, Stan Hustad, who observed a love-in at Tempe Beach Sunday, was quoted in the Arizona Republic as saying that he would ask at the meeting that the legislature cut off funds to Arizona State University until "they straighten out these beatniks." Hustad insisted Monday night that he had been misquoted but declined to clarify his statements.

The "hippies" were quiet and orderly until the legislators began their exit. Most of them left in a huff because the legislators would not answer their questions.

Honor Banquet Set May 16

The winner of the Man of the Year Award will be honored at the annual Men's Award Banquet May 16 in the MU Ballroom.

A limited number of tickets for the banquet are available for off-campus men. These tickets may be picked up in MU 207 prior to May 10.

LEFTIST LEADERS CLAIM

Hippies Hamper Serious Politics

(Fourth in a series)

By DAVID ANDERSON

The current hippie movement distracts students from more serious political activity, leaders of two campus political groups said yesterday.

William Wingfield, former president of the Committee to End the War in Vietnam chapter, said an exodus of hippies immobilized that group and Students for a Democratic Society last semester. The Committee has yet to recover, he added.

THE FUNDAMENTAL beliefs of the hippies are good, but "it's an illusion to believe you can build brotherhood in a society built around its opposites."

Congress of Racial Equality President Roger DeMarr also doubted the hippies could change current political policies, such as the Vietnam war, although they could provide the basis for a new morality.

Both agreed that political organization here was difficult and that their respective groups had been inactive lately.

"DeMARR explained that there's not much of a base here for any sort of black power movement" because of the small percentage of Negro students and professors. Also, many students leave campus early each day and take no interest in campus political activities scheduled for later hours.

Wingfield attributed the Committee's present inactivity to irresponsibility on the part of its present officers, who delayed planning for holidays and exams.

POWDER PUFF? — Angel Flight will face Kaydettes across the field in Sun Devil Stadium tomorrow at 4 p.m. for the annual Powderpuff Football Game. Proceeds from the 25 cent admission charge will go into the organization's treasury for future service projects. The meet will be coached by ROTC members.

Law Library To Include 'Law For Layman'

By JAMES BOND

The law library being developed and built here will serve the entire campus community as well as the College of Law, according to Professor Richard Dahl, law librarian.

"By the time we get into our new quarters in Armstrong Hall, we will have a definite area which will include a sort of 'law for the layman' selection of references which should prove quite handy to those who take advantage of it," said Dahl. "Already I am getting many requests for material which outlines the legal position on such things as abortion, building codes and so on from students doing term papers."

THE ENTIRE contents of the law library will be cross-indexed in the card files at Hayden Library. "This will allow users of the main library to check to see if what they want is available here in the law files without having to make a trip," Dahl explained. "The same set-up is used for the architecture and other libraries on campus." Dahl was quick to point out that the library was of primary importance to the law school.

Faculty to Join Historical Confab

Three faculty members will participate in the eighth annual Arizona Historical Conference May 5 and 6 at the Arizona Pioneer's Historical Society headquarters in Tucson.

Bert Fireman, lecturer in history, curator of the Arizona Collection at the Hayden Library and vice president of the Arizona Historical Foundation, will serve as master of ceremonies at the noon luncheon May 5 at the Santa Rita Hotel.

That afternoon at 2:00, Dr. Otis Young, Jr., associate professor of history, will host a session entitled "Pioneers of the Southwest." During the same session, Dr. Benjamin Sacks, historical consultant for the Foundation, will read a paper entitled "Herman Ehrenberg, Man of Many Wests."

Coed Accounting Majors Honored

The accounting department is honoring three young women May 8 at the annual reception given to students receiving degrees in the spring and summer of 1967.

The awards are given by the Arizona State Society of Certified Public Accountants (ASCPA) for highest scholastic achievement while in undergraduate work.

The recipients, with their grade averages are: Leonora Couvdos, 3.92; Nancy Parker Thomas, 3.91; and Priscilla Overman, 3.90.

"The law library is to the student lawyer what the laboratory is to the medical student," he remarked. "Any properly taught course in law will be impossible to master without full knowledge of how to use the library. The law courses will literally force the students to use it."

A COURSE in the use of the library is part of the first semester curriculum for beginning law students.

Musing over the physical form of the library—it's round—Dahl said, "the unusual shape of it poses unusual problems. Basically, we have the problem of putting rectangular things like stacks in a round room—and doing it efficiently. It has taken some planning, but with the help and advice of Alan Covey (University Librarian) and his staff, I think we have the problems mostly ironed out."

"The ability to expand is especially important in a law library," Dahl went on. "Unlike other libraries where a 'weeding out' process is continual, the legal precedents in the law books retain their value and are only amended to bring them up to date. The Marberry v. Madison case was decided back in 1803, for instance, and it is still a valid study today. We feel quite fortunate that more room will be available for the library when it grows enough to need it."

THE SIZE of the fully-developed library is expected to reach 200,000 volumes. "Some of the rare volumes are becoming very expensive or impossible to obtain," Dahl said. "We will have to rely on the law libraries at the Capitol and the Maricopa County complex for some of the older volumes that we just can't get our hands on."

The infant library already has over 40,000 volumes. "And we haven't even started classes yet, much less graduated any alumni," said Dahl. "This figure compares to 50,000 volumes at the UofA law library. They have the problem of no more room for new books, but I think they are finally doing something about it. Maybe a little friendly competition will

"CONTRIBUTIONS of books and money seem to be coming in quite nicely," Dahl said. "We are getting a lot of help from members of the bar here in the state. In several cases, the widow of an attorney has donated all or part of a set of legal books to us."

"Frankly, we don't turn down any contributions. We send a letter thanking the donor for the books upon which we place a value of X amount of dollars. The donor can use this as a tax write-off. Who can tell?" Dahl shrugged. "Maybe the person who gave us some un-useable material this year will donate something valuable later on."

Why Do You Read So Slowly?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique to rapid reading which should enable you to double your reading speed and yet retain much more. Most people do not realize how much they could increase their pleasure, success and income by reading faster and more accurately.

According to this publisher, anyone, regardless of his present reading skill, can use this simple technique to improve his reading ability to a remarkable degree. Whether reading stories, books, technical matter, it becomes possible to read sentences at a glance and entire pages in seconds with this method.

To acquaint the readers of this newspaper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing rapid reading skill, the company has printed full details of its interesting self-training method in a new booklet, "How to Read Faster and Retain More," mailed free. No obligation. Send your name, address, and zip code to: Reading, 835 Diversey, Dept. 160-215, Chicago, Ill. 60614. A postcard will do.

SEEKING 1ST WIN

Trackmen to Tucson

Devil tracksters invade Tucson Saturday night for their third encounter of the season with the Wildcats, and hopefully their first victory of the season against their state rival.

Injuries continue to plague the depth-poor Devils with miler Earl McDowell and hurdler Dick Miller out with pulled muscles. Jumper-sprinter Barry Sollenberger left school last week to join Uncle Sam.

In their last meeting, a triangular meet in Tempe with the Trojans of USC, the Wildcats took second place, defeating the Devils 41 to 38 and losing to the Trojans.

DEVIL JERRY Bright will have his hands full since he is expected to fill in for McDowell in the quarter mile in addition to his regular performances in the 100 and 220. Bright, who seems to be capable of running just about any event Coach Castillo wants to enter him in, had a good day at Mount Sac last weekend when he won the 220 in a wind aided 20.7 and took fourth in a 100-meter dash which featured some of the toughest competition in the nation.

Quarter mile ace Ron Freeman, who got a late start on the season after a muscle injury, appears to be ready for UofA's Jim Gormly, who beat him earlier in the season, when he posted a season best of 46.4 in Albuquerque two weeks ago.

BOTH LARRY Berryhill and Paul Longstreth have been consistently running near the 1:51 mark in the half, and should provide some drastically needed depth against the UofA.

The world is coming to an end tomorrow! But there's still time to place your classified ad today in the STATE PRESS.

Louie Scott, Jerry Jobski, Ken Robinson, Chuck LaBenz and Manuel Quintanar compose a distance squad which should be able to turn the cats over their knee and whip the tar out of them, assuming the weather in Tucson doesn't affect them.

THE HIGH JUMP, of course, will go to the UofA's Ed Caruthers, but Barry Shepard and Ken Dyer might pick up a few points.

Isiah Oakes should control the weight events and if the gods will it, Mike Markham will win the pole vault over the UofA's Al Teasely.

This weekend's encounter with the Cats will be the Devils' last conference action before the WAC meet in two weeks at Albuquerque.

Next weekend the Devils travel to L.A. for some fast and furious action in the Coliseum Relays.

Golfers to Host State Links Rivals On Rugged Country Club Course

A fired-up Sun Devil golf team will play its two Arizona rivals in dual match play this weekend.

The Swingers face the UofA on the Phoenix Country Club course today.

Coach Bill Mann said, "We should do real well. Our team is always up for a match against the UofA. We defeated them earlier this year in Tucson and we were ahead of them in our own Classic."

TOMORROW the golfers travel to Camp Verde to meet Northern Arizona University at Montezuma Country Club.

Mann has named seven players to play the two teams. Wayne Vollmer leads the golfers with the best showing in the Brigham Young University Golf Tournament last weekend. Vollmer came in second with a 212, one stroke behind the winner. Other Devils playing are Mike Morley, Joe Porter, Rick Taft, Steve Ryan, Bruce Cotton and Dave Hanten.

Coach Mann thinks that the Devils will have a better chance on the tough Phoenix Country Club course than the Wildcats.

Devil Cellar Dwellers' Woes -

Hang It Up? - Winkles

By BILL THOMAS

Still licking its wounds from an abortive road trip, the Sun Devil baseball team will host little San Diego University in a three-game series this weekend.

For Coach Bobby Winkles' squad, it will be a welcome relief from conference competition. The Devils are currently wallowing in the WAC cellar with a 2-4 record, although they have compiled a fine 34-8 mark for the season.

"WE HAVEN'T played too well lately," Winkles said. "If we don't bounce back we're gonna have to hang it up on the 20th of May. We'll have to forget about the playoffs."

Bouncing back won't be easy. The last two conference opponents for the Devils will be league-leading Arizona and second place New Mexico.

"We're not dead in the conference race," Winkles said, "but our chances are slim. We all know we have to win all six of our remaining WAC games to be assured of a win."

WINKLES WILL send righthander Gary Gentry against San Diego University today. The former Phoenix College mound ace has piled up a sparkling 9-1 record on the season with a 1.52 earned run average.

"Gentry has been our leading pitcher in recent weeks," Winkles said. "He's kept the ball down better than the other pitchers. When you get the ball up you're gonna get beat."

Winkles added that Junior Jeff Pentland was having problems keeping the ball down. The smooth lefthander has lost his last three outings after amassing 11 straight wins.

PENTLAND HAS been tabbed to start the first game of a double-header tomorrow against SDU. Tom Burgess, whose 1.70 ERA is second best on the team, will get the call in the abbreviated second game.

Winkles will make several line-up changes in an effort to settle the squad before the upcoming series with tough New Mexico next week. First baseman Joey Paulson and second sacker Fred Nelson will not start for the Devils. Both have been in a slump and need a rest, according to Winkles. Ron Davini will move from the outfield to handle catching chores, Randy Bobb will move from behind the plate to first base, and Randy Perry will crack the starting lineup at the key-stone.

Game time today is 3 p.m. Doubleheader action will begin at 1 p.m. tomorrow on the Arizona State field.

the course and know where the trees and traps are. You might say we are playing on our home courts," Mann said.

MANN FEELS that the Camp Verde course is easier than Phoenix Country Club.

"The course is more open. Trees just aren't a problem. Since the bad weather has retarded the growth of the shrubs," said Mann, "you can shoot a little crooked and not be worried about hitting a tree."

Now take the newest multi-sensory trip: Walk to any soft-drink machine and have some Sprite.

THE EYE

It happens as soon as you pay your money and take your bottle. Suddenly, Sprite takes you, the hedonist, on your way to a sensually satisfying tactile-aural-palatable-optical-oral experience.

First, you observe the refreshing green bottle. A tempting sight. Then you reach forth and touch it. Very cool. Finally, you uncap the cap. Now you're ready to drink in that delicious tartness --but wait! Before regressing to the delightful infantile pleasure of taking your bottle, stop. And listen.

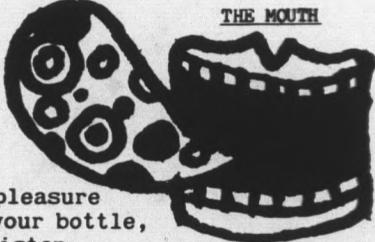

THE EAR

Because Sprite is so utterly noisy. Cascading in crescendos of effervescent flavor. Billowing with billions of ebullient bubbles. And then sip. Gulp. Guzzle. Aaaaaa! Sprite. So tart and tingling o'er the taste buds. And voila! You have your multi-sensory experience.

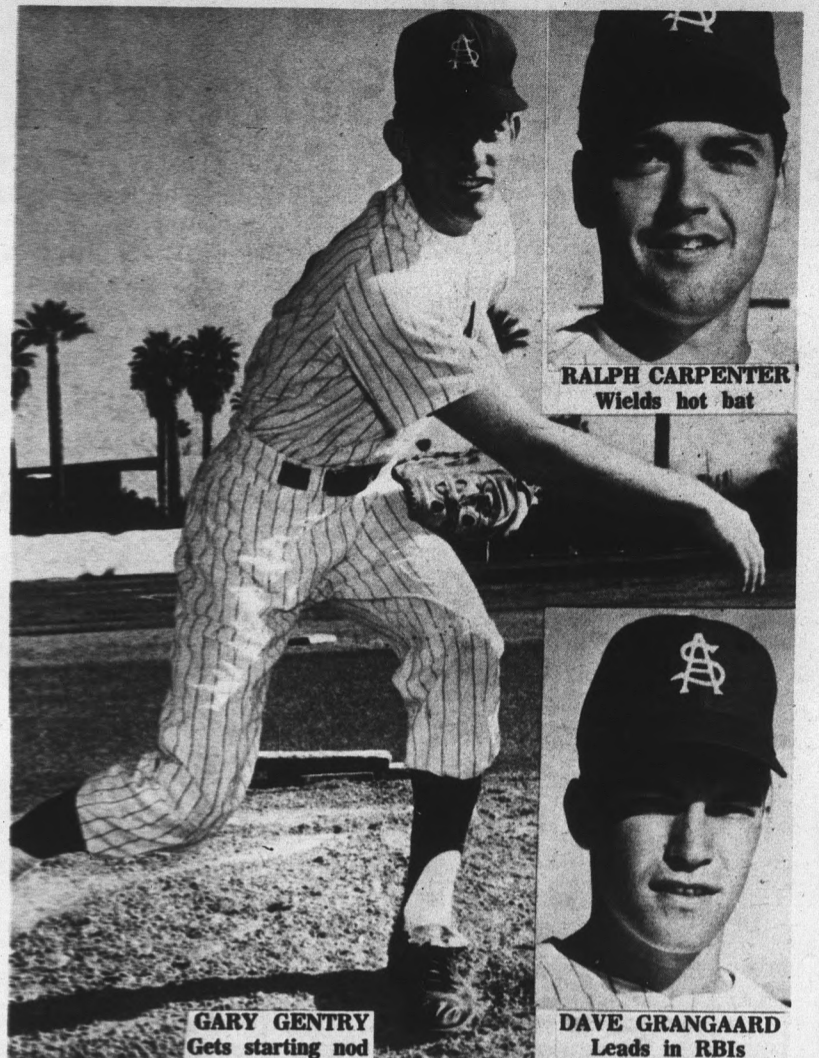

But what about the olfactory factor, you ask? Well, what do you want for a dime--a five-sense soft drink?

IN NATIONAL PAGEANT —

Coeds Selected Finalists

Three ASU coeds are among four state finalists who will represent Arizona in the National College Queen Pageant in New York City June 11.

They are Patricia Erickson, a senior majoring in physical education who has been in the top 10 per cent of her class; Ingrid Myklestad, a senior majoring in history and former chairman of the Performing Arts Committee; and Jan Soderstrom, a junior majoring in home economics.

The girls were selected on the basis of scholastic achievement, leadership in campus activities, community service work and essays which they wrote.

Along with girls representing every state, the Arizona finalists will participate in competitive events and discussions. Judges then will decide on one finalist from each state.

Fifty state finalists will appear on coast-to-coast television and the new National College Queen will be selected and honored as "the nation's most outstanding college gir."

The contest is being sponsored by the Best Foods division of Corn Products Co., a national food manufacturer.

The Kappa Sigma Stardusters recently out-volleyballed the Golden Hearts in a two out of three volleyball tournament.

Newly welcomed into the Starduster team are Janis Blumkin, Shirley Simpson, Kathy Russell, Patti Haskell and Gloria Dawn.

MORE KAPPA SIG news: The sorority won the Sweepstakes Trophy for the third time in the last four years at the Blue Key Carnival last weekend. Good luck to all Kappa Sigs and their dates . . . hope they make it back from Guaymas in time for finals. (So much for the Kappa Sigs.)

About 700 American Marines in Vietnam have been "adopted" by University coeds.

THE MEN members of 14 platoons are part of "Project Adopt," a program initiated by Semper Fidelis, the University organization of future Marine Officers.

Each participating sorority or dorm was assigned to a platoon and correspondence between the women and the Marines was initiated on an individual basis. In addition to letters such hard-to-get items as magazines and cigarettes are also being sent to the men.

The sororities participating in the program are Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Epsilon Phi, Alpha Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Pi Beta Pi. The dorms involved in "Project Adopt" are Gammage, Wilson, and Palo Verde halls, the Quad, and Mac "A" and "B".

Thirteen women have been nominated for this year's Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. Nominees are: Jill Whiteside, Paula Panich, Judy Fife, Kathie Lynch, Cherie Ballard, Sharon Barlow, Sharon VanFleet, Eldray Tate, Nancy Valleskey, Susie Ganem, Mary Kohler, Janine Schuldt, and Jeanne Shirk. Outgoing sweetheart is Carolyn Meador.
