

Tempe cop dead; gunman killed in standoff

By MIKE BURGESS
State Press

A Tempe man took a hostage and shot and killed a Tempe police lieutenant during a wild rampage Sunday afternoon that ended 15 minutes later when officers shot and killed the man in a brief standoff, police said.

Martin J. Curran, 33 of 815 S. Roosevelt, was killed by Department of Public Safety officers with shotguns on the Maricopa Freeway after Curran had earlier allegedly shot and killed Lt. John Bradshaw, a 20-year veteran of the Tempe police force, during a chase on the Hohokam Freeway.

Bradshaw, 45 and a 1980 ASU graduate in criminal justice studies, was the first Tempe police officer to be killed in the line of duty, police said.

Bradshaw was killed after Curran allegedly shot him, sending Bradshaw's patrol car careening into a tree in front of the Koll Business Center, 448 South 48th St. in Tempe, police said.

Bradshaw was transported to Maricopa Medical Center where he was pronounced dead around 4:20 p.m., police said.

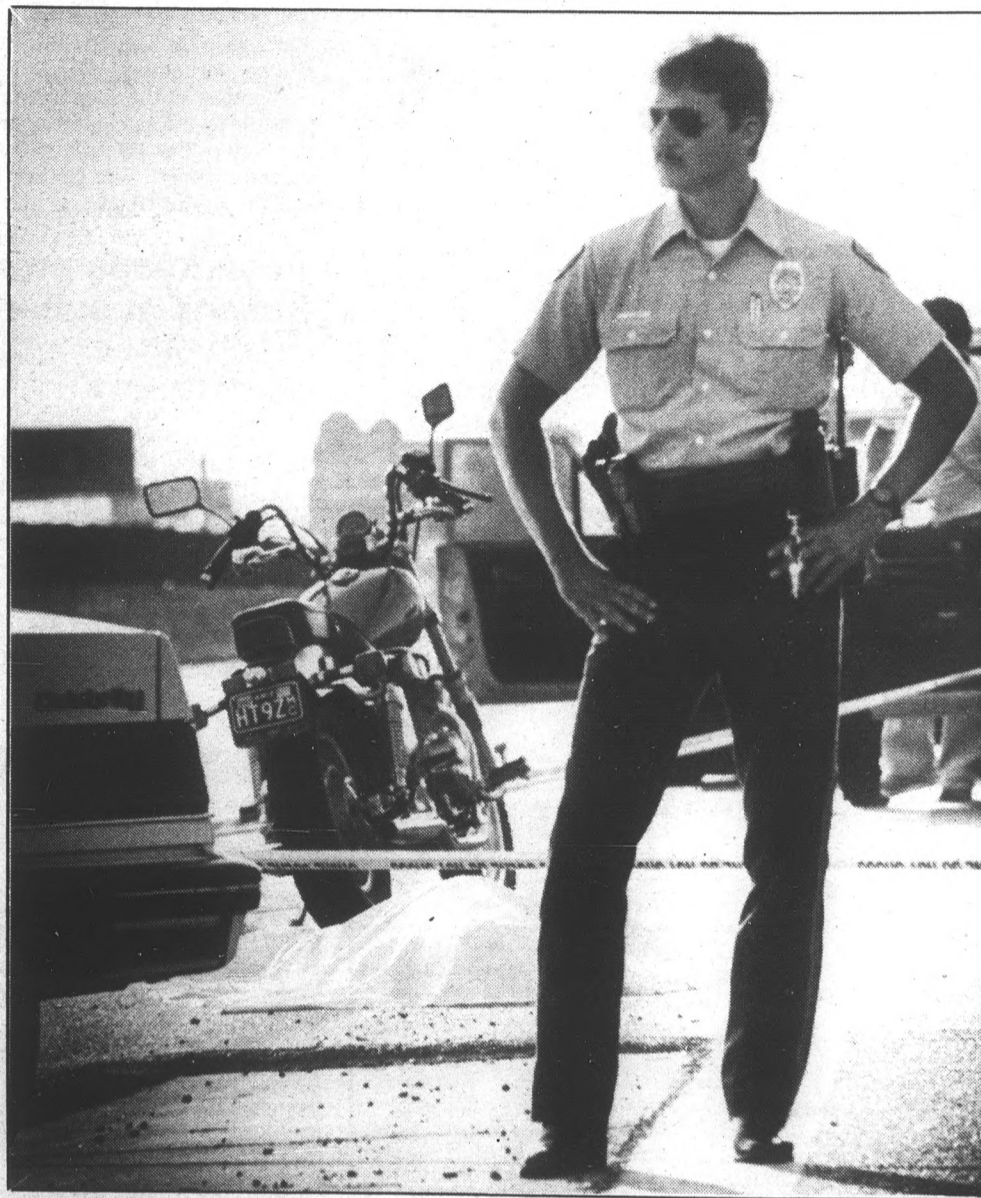

The rampage began when Tempe police responded to a call just before 3 p.m. to assist personnel with a combative mentally ill man at Tempe St. Luke's Hospital, 1500 South Mill Ave., police said.

Tempe Officer Jeff Royer was transporting Curran, the combative patient, to Maricopa County Hospital, 2601 E. Roosevelt, when "he (Curran) began kicking out the windows in the police car.

"The officer (Royer) stopped to check on him," at 40th Street and Van Buren, Tempe police spokesman Roger Clay said.

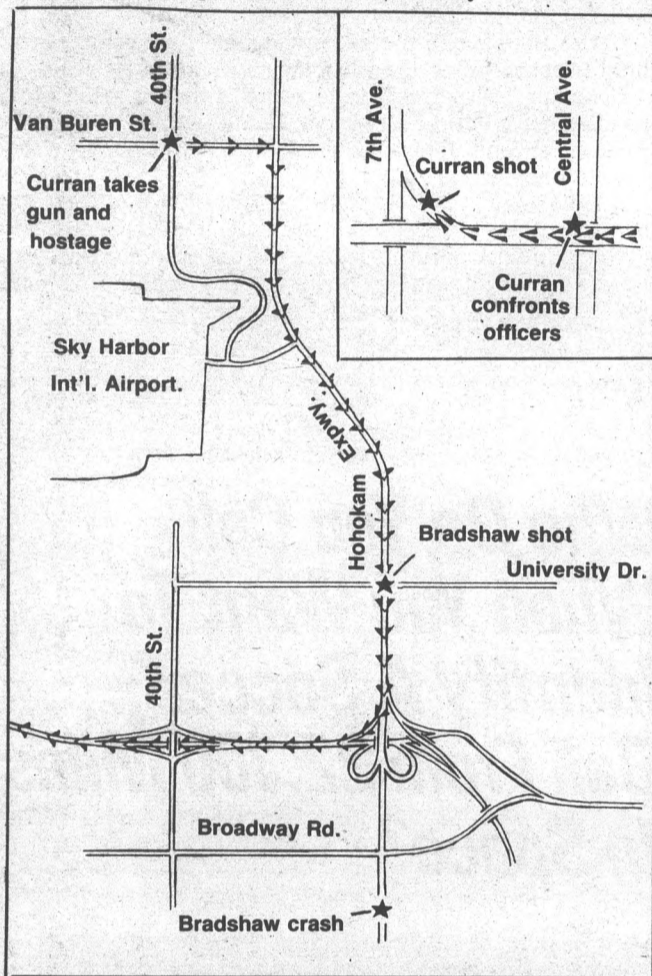

Royer stopped the car to subdue Curran. After the officer opened the door, Curran bolted and kicked Royer in the stomach.

300 student paychecks lost through computer error

By KIM MATTINGLY
State Press

About 300 ASU student employees went home emptyhanded and annoyed this weekend after computer and department errors canceled their two-week paychecks.

And Nancy Dutcher, a receptionist in Payroll Services, said most of the students won't be compensated for the missing pay for at least two weeks.

"We've seen a lot of irate students," she said Friday from the payroll office in the Academic Services Building. "I'd hate to think how many people have been through this office today."

Dutcher said some students may receive "special pay" if payroll services caused the problem, but most simply will receive large paychecks in two weeks. ASU employees are paid bimonthly.

The payroll office is investigating a "combination of problems" that may have led to the canceled paychecks, she said, including missing paperwork for student tax forms and computer errors.

Administrators at Hayden Library "didn't put their (student worker) computer cards in right," resulting in the paycheck problems there, she said.

Connie Corey, ASU assistant librarian for management services, said, "I do not know all of the things that happened to result in the problem ... but I am going to do whatever I can to rectify the situation in as short a time as possible."

Dutcher said Hayden Library and other departments, which may have inconvenienced students, can request "special pay" for emergency cases.

Corey said the mixup will mean a lot of paperwork, but she added, "The pain is for the students. They're the ones inconvenienced, no matter who's at fault."

"Inconvenient" was not the description used by student library employee Dave deNeui, who said he spent three hours Friday "running back and forth between offices" attempting to get a paycheck.

"They screwed up," the senior secondary education major said. "One office blames another. I've just about given up."

deNeui said Hayden administrators first recommended he see the ASU financial aid office for a student loan until he is paid next month.

But he said, "I wasn't going to take out a temporary loan and pay interest and a service charge on it."

Groups square off over Mecham recall

By BEN MCCONNELL
State Press

Waving political signs in the hot sun as tens of thousands of cars zoom by is not very glamorous; for several ASU students who stand on opposite sides of the fence that is Gov. Evan Mecham's support, it's just part of a leisurely weekend.

Sharing the corner of McClintock and Southern roads Saturday were forces of the Mecham Recall Committee and Stop the Recall, a fledgling group of Mecham supporters whose logo is "think before you ink."

"Having (Stop the Recall) here is good publicity," said ASU electrical engineering major Emily Kim, who spends an additional four hours per week manning a table on campus, registering voters and garnering recall signatures. "We were hoping Kip Shippy would come by again."

Last weekend, Shippy and members of his disbanded Ev Mecham Fan Club had a few squabbles with recall workers, which attracted some media attention, another recall volunteer said.

This weekend, with temperatures in the upper 90s and sidewalk temperatures even hotter, Shippy stayed away from the corner, which is just down the street from his Tempe residence, and prospects for heated arguments were slim as both sides exchanged friendly banter, even posing for a picture.

"It's just the great thing about democracy," said Recall worker Kathleen Hollingsworth, as she waved to a motorist who honked.

Craig Johnson, an ASU freshman political science major and Stop the Recall volunteer, said passerby response he and fellow Mecham supporter and University freshman Robert Harris had gotten was "50-50." Both handed copies of The Governor's Report, a tabloid to stave off perceived media bias against Mecham, to motorists who were stopped at the intersection.

"We did have an old lady in a Pinto 'gesture' at us," Harris, a financial economics major, added, referring to the flipping of the Bird. "(But) I share a conservative philosophy with Mecham. When the recall movement started going, I wasn't going to let the recall people corner him."

"Most people give (us) either thumbs up or thumbs down.

Key details remain to be settled on proposed U.S.-Soviet treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite an agreement in principle on a nuclear arms pact, the United States and the Soviet Union remain divided on two important provisions and are sending their experts back to the bargaining table.

Yet to be resolved are differences over the timetable for withdrawal of the intermediate-range nuclear missiles covered by the agreement and on a set of rules to prevent violations of the treaty.

After three days of talks, President Reagan announced on Friday that he and Soviet General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev were committed to signing the treaty at a summit meeting in the United States this year, but that details must still be worked out.

The meat of the agreement is a pledge by the superpowers to remove the nuclear warheads from all ground-launched missiles in the 300 mile to 3,400 mile range and destroy the launching tubes. The United States has 332 of these weapons and the Soviet Union has about 680 of them.

Pope keeps promise, visits Indians at subarctic outpost

FORT SIMPSON, Northwest Territories (AP) — Welcomed by a drum song and a sacred fire, Pope John Paul II kept a promise Sunday by visiting this subarctic outpost, where he spoke in support of native rights and warned Indians not to let "instability" undermine their society.

A steady drizzle fell as the pope's plane arrived at an airstrip from Edmonton, Alberta, at the end of his 10-day U.S. tour. But the sky brightened and a rainbow appeared as he was greeted by Indian and Canadian officials.

Then he drove in a papal mini-van down a dirt road to the settlement on the banks of the mile-wide Mackenzie River. There an estimated 4,000 Dene Indians huddled under white plastic raincoats in front of a 55-foot tepee, which had been erected three years ago as a podium for a papal Mass and never dismantled.

The pope had scheduled a stop here during a Canadian tour in September 1984, but could not land because of thick fog.

The celebrations began even before the pope's arrival with the lighting of a sacred fire accompanied by a traditional drum song, the burning of sweet grass and the passing of a peace pipe.

Opposition newspaper to reopen, Nicaraguan foreign minister says

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The Sandinista government will allow Nicaragua's opposition newspaper La Prensa to reopen, Foreign Minister Miguel D'Escoto and a partner in the paper said Sunday.

D'Escoto said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press in San Jose, Costa Rica, that the paper, closed June 26, 1986, would be allowed to resume publishing immediately without prior censorship.

Carlos Holmann, a partner in the paper, did not say in a brief telephone interview when the paper would reopen.

Holmann said permission to reopen was the result of a meeting Saturday of President Daniel Ortega, Agrarian Reform Minister Jaime Wheelock and La Prensa co-owner Violeta Chamorro.

D'Escoto said, "In spite of the fact that there is still a state of emergency, in spite of the fact that the Reagan administration is still waging war through its mercenaries, we are moving ahead and doing a series of things, among which is allowing La Prensa to reopen."

Who Do You Call When You Want To Identify A Soccer Ball From 22,300 Miles In Space?

If your answer is Ghost Busters, we want to wish you all the best and have a nice day. If you answered "TRW", here's the rest of the story.

The U.S. Air Force asked us to build a ground-based electro-optical surveillance system that could identify an object the size of a soccer ball from 22,300 miles in space. We did it, utilizing 3 telescopes and a large computer system. Then they asked us to build four more. Quite an achievement, but it's just one example of TRW's impact on the future.

TRW offers you the freedom to move among a wide variety of opportunities in microelectronics, high energy lasers, large software systems, communications, and scientific spacecraft. If you're majoring in engineering, computer science, math, or physics, and want to be with a company that's driving technology into the next century, it's not too soon to talk. Shootout

The blow knocked the officer's gun into the street. Curran got to the gun first, pointed it at the officer, then "took a hostage, and fled on a motorcycle," police said. The officer radioed for help at 3:27 p.m.

The hostage, identified as Timothy W. Ott, 20, of Chandler, was "evidently moving slow (on his motorcycle) on Van Buren Street. So Curran jumped on and told him to 'go,'" Clay said.

"Curran pointed the gun at Ott's head and ribs and told him he was going to take him to Tucson," Sgt. Allan Schmidt, DPS spokesman said.

Curran and the hostage drove east on Van Buren, turning on to the Hohokam Freeway, past Sky Harbor Airport, where they were spotted by Bradshaw.

A chase ensued and Curran reportedly fired Royer's .38 revolver near University Drive on the Hohokam, striking Bradshaw in the chest. Bradshaw may have maintained consciousness briefly but then drove through a red light at the intersection of Broadway Road and 48th Street, where he crashed into the tree, police said.

On the grey, 1986 Honda motorcycle, Curran fled with hostage Ott, a Phoenix Gazette courier, west onto the Maricopa Freeway. By then, officers had positioned themselves along the Maricopa, police said.

Curran fired at least two shots at Phoenix police patrol cars. One bullet went through the door of a squad car, striking an officer's steel baton but leaving him uninjured.

Another shot went through another patrol car window but left the officers inside uninjured.

"The suspect then decided to take a chance and get off the motorcycle" at the off-ramp at 7th Avenue and the Maricopa Freeway, Schmidt said.

Ott jumped off the motorcycle and over a guardrail when Curran "began firing his empty weapon at the officers," Schmidt said. Sgt. Ken Barton returned fire twice and Officer Ron Hudson shot once. Curran was struck by the shots and died immediately.

Bradshaw's death was a heavy blow to his fellow Tempe officers, as most refused comment, their eyes teary.

But Hal McCormick, a fellow officer who knew Bradshaw for 11 years and trained under him as a rookie, said: "I didn't know anyone who didn't like him. There wasn't anything he wouldn't do for anyone."

"It's something that everyone will take to heart."

One officer standing guard near Bradshaw's wrecked patrol car who declined to be identified, said: "It hurts. I really just don't want to comment."

One officer, blood stains on his uniform, stood silently near Bradshaw's car.

Bradshaw was a patrol bureau supervisor who was well-liked within the department, said spokesman Clay. He graduated from the FBI national academy in 1982. He is survived by his wife Diane and four children.

Richard Wennes, a clerk at the Short Stop at 48th Street and Broadway Road, said he saw Bradshaw's car go "tearing through the intersection" near his store. "(The car) skidded across three lanes and flipped, crashed. It went right through the red light."

Will Harwood, 33 of Phoenix, said Curran was beating up Royer at 40th and Van Buren streets "pretty good."

"Everyone was just standing there watching (Royer) getting beat up," Harwood said. "They just stood there."

Mike Gross of Phoenix was standing near the intersection of 40th and Van Buren streets when Curran reportedly slugged Royer. He said the incident happened so quickly, that everything was nearly a blur.

"I looked, I thought it was a traffic accident," Gross said. "Then I saw the motorcycle take off."

Ironically, police said they responded to a call earlier Sunday afternoon at 815 S. Roosevelt for a mentally ill man. The man turned out to be Curran. Police briefly spoke with him, then left.

Hostage 'still shaky'; friend followed in high-speed chase

By DARRIN HOSTETLER
State Press

"I was just doing what I could to keep the bike up on two wheels with a gun in my ribs," Chandler resident Timothy Ott said, after he was taken hostage Sunday by a gunman and made to ride his motorcycle on a high-speed chase with police.

"I was more scared of falling off that bike at 70 miles an hour than I was of getting shot," the 20-year-old Ott said, surrounded by visibly shaken family members and friends.

Police said Martin J. Curran, a Tempe resident, took Ott hostage at the intersection of Van Buren and 40th streets, after he escaped from police officers transporting him to the Maricopa County Hospital.

But Ott, who said he was "still shaky, but glad that the ordeal was over," was not alone during the chase. He was followed throughout the ordeal by friend Christopher Nucklos, 21, who saw Curran jump on the motorcycle with a gun.

"I was just staying as close behind him as I could," Nucklos said. I didn't want him to get out of sight.

"As long as Tim was going to be involved in this thing, I was going to be right there behind him."

Behind him was not a safe place to be, as Curran was allegedly turning around to fire rounds of ammunition at the police pursuing him through the city.

Curran confronted police at 7th Avenue and the Maricopa Freeway, where Ott said he "saw the police with the shotguns and just wanted to get out of the way."

Ott dived over the Maricopa Freeway siderail and slid part-way down an embankment moments before Phoenix officers killed Curran in the ensuing shootout. Curran was pronounced dead at 3:47 p.m.

Recall Refusal

Petition signers should be limited to last election's voters

Marty Sauerzopf
Copy Chief

"Excuse me, how would you like to sign a petition to recall the governor of Arizona?" the recall worker asked a couple walking in front of his table.

"I'm sorry," the woman said, "but I don't live in Arizona."

"No, you're not allowed to sign," the worker acknowledged. "How about you, sir?"

"I'd like to," the man responded, "but I'm not registered to vote."

"That's all right. I can register you right here and then you can sign."

"Great! Hand me a pen!"

Since its inception, the Mecham Recall Committee has done its best to conduct its activities legally. The workers have not pressured anyone into signing a petition, but have acted with the utmost courtesy; merely asking politely for signatures.

Organization and control like this gives me the hope that the recall movement will be successful. I'd like to see the governor recalled as much as the next man.

However, I have not signed a recall petition, nor do I intend to do so.

I am not an armchair politician. I do not enjoy sitting back and watching others take part in vital political issues while I do nothing. In this country, it is the right and duty of every man and woman to voice an opinion through free elections, and the recall movement is part of a free election.

All of my support is behind the recall effort. If I had the time I would be passing around petitions.

But I will not sign one.

'This is the point at which the recall drive and I part ways. Registering more voters is great, but registering them for the sole purpose of adding a signature to a recall petition is destructive.'

The main reason for my refusal is that I was not even registered to vote at the time of Mecham's election. I did not participate in that decision, so I see no right for me to participate in the reversal of that decision.

The very nature of a recall indicates that the voters who elected Mecham to office have realized that they made a serious mistake, and therefore those same voters should be the ones who correct that mistake. Hence, I think that a true recall should limit petition signatures to people who voted in the original election.

It is true that my life will be just as affected by Mecham as anyone who did participate in the election. I will have to live with the decisions and mistakes that he makes. But these consequences come as a direct result of the fact that I did not register to cast a vote in the last election. By failing to vote, I more or less said, "I don't care who is in office."

Now I do care. A lot of people care now who didn't care before. In fact, the recall movement is counting on more and more people deciding that they do care who the governor is. Therefore, recall workers are happily registering voters and then having them sign petitions.

This is the point at which the recall drive and I part ways. Registering more voters is great, but registering them for the sole purpose of adding a signature to a recall petition is destructive.

While some of the newly registered voters were probably intending to register anyway, it is likely that many of these new voters are people who have never held an interest in politics or have never voted before in their lives. I would also bet that a good number of them are merely following a new trend that is sweeping across Arizona: Get Mecham Out of Office.

They have caught on to this trend through admittedly oppressive — if not biased — media coverage, including articles, columns, cartoons and even a week-long series of "Doodlesbury" strips.

Ordinarily, I would consider an increased number of voters a good thing, but I foresee many of the new voters to be one-time participants. Once they have done their best to oust Mecham, they will never be seen at the polls again.

Bringing in loads of new voters to sign petitions is like bringing people in from out of state to sign them. Hopping on the recall bandwagon is not the purpose of registering to vote. Voting is a serious privilege in this country, it is not meant as a way to stuff a recall-ballot box.

If ASU students were trying to oust J. Russell Nelson for his past discrepancies as the University president, would we allow next year's incoming freshman, who haven't spent a day on this campus, to vote on it?

If the recall does force a new election, it is likely that the most of the new voters will turn out. I just hope the new voters will continue to turn out in the years to come.

In the meantime, I will do anything I can to support the recall of Gov. Mecham — except sign a petition. To those of you who are circulating petitions, I wish you the best of luck, but I hope your efforts are concentrated toward the voters who actually put Mecham in office in the first place.

If you were not registered to take part in the election and you still give your signature to the recall drive, please give the responsibility of being a registered voter all of the time and effort that it entails.

Don't be a one-time voice.

Crying Kiddes: Feeding furry felines to the fishies

Mike Royko
Tribune Media
Services

About six years ago I happened to have a cat I didn't need. It had been brought home by my youngest issue. He feared it would freeze in the 55 degrees and sunshine.

Since I was already providing food and shelter for a large group of creatures — including pets, children and women — I did not want any more.

I offered it around, but none of my neighbors wanted the cat, or, for that matter, any of the children.

So I decided to write a column, offering the cat to anyone who would give it a nice home. Or even a miserable home. Why should a cat be better off than me?

In hopes of stimulating a fast response, I wrote that if somebody did not take the cat off my hands in a few days, I would give it to a friend of mine who kept a tank full of piranhas, those tiny South American fish that have very sharp teeth.

And, as I wrote at the time: "If somebody doesn't little children, it will be snap, snap, gobble, gobble, right down to his curly tail."

The response was gratifying. Thousands of children went into sobbing hysteria.

For days my phone rang continually, and I heard from hundreds of weeping little tots who pleaded with me not to feed the kitty to the fish.

I also heard from angry parents who said I should be ashamed of myself for frightening poor little children. I pointed out that I was doing them a favor by letting their kids know that this is a cruel world, filled with monsters like me.

One mother said her little boy had awakened during the night from a terrible dream about the bad piranha fish. He must have been a slow kid. At his age I was having pretty good dreams about bad girls.

Another woman called to berate me because her daughter wouldn't eat supper. "She won't eat," the woman said, "until she knows you haven't fed the cat to the fish."

"Of course I haven't," I said.

"Well, tell that to my daughter," she said.

The girl came on the phone and said: "Did you give the cat to the fish?"

"Sure," I said.

"Waaaah!" she said.

Well, if the kid doesn't want to eat supper, that's her hard luck.

Finally the furor died down, the children dried their tears and ate their supper, and the little old ladies stopped picking on me and resumed picking on little old men.

As I said, that was six years ago.

But recently the phone rang, and it was a little kid asking me if I had fed the kitty to the fish.

Holy smoke, I thought, the kid has been worrying for all these years. He must have ulcers and grey hair.

But when I talked to him, I realized what had happened.

That column was among a few dozen that a publisher had tossed into book form. The paperback edition is now floating around, and the book publisher didn't have the sense to delete my phone number, which I had included in the column when I tried to get rid of the cat.

And since parents don't have enough sense to keep low and harmful books out of the hands of their children, an entirely new generation of little children is going into sobbing hysterics.

Once again I am getting phone calls and tiny voices are pleading with me not to let those fish go gobble, gobble, snap, snap.

I even heard from a woman in California, who said her child had been traumatized by the book. She wanted me to accept charges for the phone call. When I refused, she said: "It was YOUR book!"

"Yeah," I said, "but it's your kid."

So, once again, and once and for all, I want to reassure all those upset little children.

No, girls and boys, the mean man on the newspaper did not give the nice little kitty to the bad fish.

I gave the little kitty to a nice couple who live on the North Side.

And they ate it.

ASU vending machines soon to offer condoms

The University has made it official: Sometime in late October students will be able to buy a condom along with a Snickers bar or Milk Duds.

After mulling over the idea for nearly a month, ASU officials will install condoms in "high-traffic" vending machines in dormitories, the MU and restrooms.

How much the machine-vended prophylactics will cost has not been established. U of A has sold condoms out of machines for the past year ranging from 90 cents to $1.25.

Dr. Monty Roth, ASU's director of student health, said condoms will likely be sold in packs of three, in the range of U of A's prices.

"Locating condoms in a private purchase arrangement might remove some barriers for their use," Roth said Sunday. "We decided this would be one way to encourage people who are sexually active to protect themselves from sexually transmitted diseases, particularly AIDS."

Bork confirmation remains in doubt after first week of Senate hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — After the first week of his confirmation hearings, Robert H. Bork's chances of becoming a Supreme Court justice remain as much in doubt as the effect his extraordinary five days of testimony packs for future nomination fights.

As the Senate Judiciary Committee prepares to hear from Bork's backers and detractors in the hearings' second phase, key questions are unanswered:

- Will the impressions Bork created in his bid to win approval by a majority of the committee's 14 members be bolstered or eroded as the hearings continue?
- What effect will the committee's vote, still weeks off, have when the nomination reaches the full Senate?
- Has the Senate now established beyond a doubt the propriety of asking a Supreme Court nominee about his or her judicial ideology and political beliefs, and then voting based on those views?
- Has Bork's willingness to provide answers to such queries, a break from recent precedent, set the model for future nominees?

Among the committee's eight Democrats and six Republicans, Bork appears likely to win the support of five Republicans and attract negative votes from five Democrats.

The Republicans are Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, Orrin Hatch of Utah, Alan Simpson of Wyoming, Charles Grassley of Iowa and Gordon Humphrey of New Hampshire.

The Democrats are committee chairman Joseph Biden of Delaware, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Howard Metzenbaum of Ohio, Patrick Leahy of Vermont and Paul Simon of Illinois.

Bork's fate in the committee then would be determined by three Democrats and one Republican still claiming to be on the fence — Dennis DeConcini of Arizona, Robert Byrd of West Virginia, Howell Heflin of Alabama and Arlen Specter, a Republican from Pennsylvania.

Specter and DeConcini said Sunday that they remained undecided on Bork.

Commented DeConcini: "I don't believe the judge is a racist or anything in the nature of some of the charges that have been lodged against him. He's been forthright and forthcoming. The problem is predictability."

Recall Controversy

Some guys yell 'you support a fascist,' " Harris said. "The recall people have been very hospitable; they have a good sense of humor."

Some passersby were not so generous, as one woman yelled without pointing at anyone directly, "get out of here you commies."

A young bicyclist told the pro-Mecham forces, "you guys should get the hell out of here."

A young girl in the passenger seat of a Ford Mustang called out her support for Stop the Recall, but said, "I'm sorry man, I'm not 18 (years old)."

"Hey, is that what Sam Streiger (sic) was talking about?" gesturing to copies of Mecham's tabloid that Harris was holding.

Recall sets signature record on 'high profile' day

By TWYLA PUMROY
State Press

A record number of signature gatherers saturated the Valley during the Mecham Recall Committee's Saturday "high profile" day, gathering the most signatures ever collected in a single day by the group, a recall official said Sunday.

Ilene Gordon, political strategist for the committee to recall Gov. Evan Mecham, said: "It was fantastic. I don't have an exact figure but I know that it was a record day."

Gordon said that of the Valley's 6,000 recall volunteers, a record number worked from 6 a.m. until 10 p.m. at stations all over the Valley, including ASU's Sun Devil Stadium.

Tempe Recall Coordinator Pat Baysinger said the group could have doubled the 1,800 signatures it gathered at the game between the Sun Devils and Pacific had there been twice the staff.

"I had seven stations during the day and about 35 people working them," Baysinger said. "We were understaffed during the game, but we got about 1,800 signatures so far and there are usually about 300 that don't get turned in until later.

"Everyone said this was going to fizzle but I think the opposite is true. There is still a vast number of people that want to sign that we haven't hit yet. We are broke and we are disorganized but somehow the demand pulls us along like a riptide," he said.

Gordon said members of Rethink the Recall, a group opposed to the recall, did not present problems during Saturday's blitz.

Mesa recall office Coordinator Will Powers said of the petitions turned in Saturday, about 2,000 people signed.

"We're sure some more are going to come in," Powers said. "That is how many we have that are turned in and already notarized."

He said the Mesa volunteers experienced "the normal amount of harassment."

Meanwhile, ASU recall coordinator Amy Rosenhaus said the turnout for a "Rock Against Mecham" concert Saturday night in the MU was less than 100 people.

A table in front of the MU Saturday night gathered about 40 signatures, she added.

GO FROM COLLEGE TO THE ARMY WITHOUT MISSING A BEAT.

The hardest thing about breaking into professional music is—well, breaking into professional music. So if you're looking for an opportunity to turn your musical talent into a full-time performing career, take a good look at the Army.

It's not all parades and John Philip Sousa. Army bands rock, waltz and boogie as well as march, and they perform before concert audiences as well as spectators. With an average of 40 performances a month, there's also the opportunity for travel—not only across America, but possibly abroad.

Most important, you can expect a first-rate professional environment from your instructors, facilities and fellow musicians. The Army has educational programs that can help you pay for off-duty instruction, and if you qualify, even help you repay your federally-insured student loans. If you can sight-read music, performing in the Army could be your big break. Write: Chief, Army Bands Office, Fort Benjamin Harrison, IN 46216-5005. Or call toll free 1-800-USA-ARMY.

Boy struck by car after running into street

Child in critical condition; driver not cited in accident

By MIKE BURGESS
State Press

A 2-year-old boy remained in critical condition Sunday after he was struck by a car while playing in a friend's Tempe neighborhood Friday afternoon, police said.

Timothy Rhee, of the 2100 block of West Calle Del Norte, Chandler, was struck by the driver of a 1979 Lincoln Continental after he ran into the street in the 4500 block of South Rural Road, Tempe police Sgt. P.J. Janik said.

Rhee was flown by helicopter to Maricopa County Medical Center where he was treated for "multiple injuries."

Janik said the driver of the car, 21-year-old Shawn Booge of Tempe, was not cited for the accident.

In other incidents:

•An ASU student was arrested Saturday night for allegedly threatening to kill a Sun Devil Stadium security guard who tried to confiscate several bottles of liquor in the stadium, police said.

James P. Currin was booked into Maricopa County Jail and charged with disorderly conduct and intimidation after police found he had an outstanding warrant.

•An ASU student suffered minor injuries Saturday afternoon after her car slammed into a fence behind 410 Adelphi Drive, police said.

Police said Dina G. McLean later was released from Tempe St. Luke's, where she was treated for a broken nose and minor cuts.

•A man arrested for drunk driving was charged with aggravated assault for allegedly slugging a jailer in the face while he was being booked into Tempe City Jail Friday, police said.

Police said Anthony Joseph Musa, 26, of the 300 block of South Beck Ave., allegedly punched jailer Henry Reizes, breaking his glasses.

Reizes suffered a minor cut and a bloody nose.

Do you see yourself?

Eating disorders show up in many ways, and are not always obvious. This checklist can help determine if an eating disorder is controlling your life, or the life of someone you love.

- Is dieting the most important area of your life?
- Has food become a power struggle between you and your family or friends?
- Are you unable to eat in a normal social setting with other people?
- If you have lost or gained a great deal of weight, do you feel powerful because of it?
- Do you feel depressed about your body image?
- Have you felt isolated from your family and friends?
- Do others try to get you to eat more, even though you think you look "fine"?

If you answered "Yes" to one or more of these questions, call to set up an appointment for an evaluation. 941-8002. If you have questions for us, please call. We'll help you get control of your eating so you can get control of your life.

Spotlights

Hints, delectables and other tangy tidbits from the cluttered files of the entertainment desk.

Box Office Bingo:

•Movies just released in the Valley include Tough Guys Don't Dance, starring Ryan O'Neal and Isabella Rossellini. Directed by Norman Mailer, this thriller has been called the year's most controversial movie. It's now playing at Mann Sun Devil Six theaters in Cornerstone Mall.

•Fatal Attraction, featuring Michael Douglas, Glenn Close and Anne Archer describes what can happen when a married man succumbs to boredom and decides to have a weekend affair. This horrific chiller is now showing at Mann Sun Devil Six theaters.

•The M.U. Cinema presents the hit film "Lethal Weapon," starring Mel Gibson and Danny Glover. The film revolves around the explosively fragile relationship between two cops. It plays every night until Tuesday at 7 and 9:30 p.m. at the cinema, located in the basement of the MU. All seats are $1.

The principal (James Belushi) breaks up a fight between two opposing gang members (Troy Winbush and J.J. Cohen).

Theater:

•"The Secret Affairs of Mildred Wild" opens at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 23 at the Lyceum Theater. Tickets are $5 and $6, $4 for students. For more information call 965-3434.

¼"A Little Night Music," the Stephen Sondheim musical, will be presented as Lyric Opera's first fall offering. This delightful comedy of romantic errors includes the beautiful "Send in the Clowns." Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Oct. 2, 3, 7, 9 and 10, 3 p.m. on Oct. 4 and 7 p.m. on Oct. 11. Tickets are $9.50 for adults and $5 for students. For more information call 965-2858.

Art:

•The Harry Wood Art Gallery is presenting a group show of approximately 35 works by as many M.F.A. degree candidates from the Arizona State University School of Art. The show runs from September 21 to October 2. For more information call 966-6861.

Robert Downey's got all the best lines. Excuse me miss, but I couldn't help noticing you have the body of a Boticelli. What would you think if a total stranger walked up to you on the street and handed you a flower (he hands her a flower)?

You know, from the second I saw you, I knew that even if I lived a long life filled with success and money that there would always be something missing because I would always wonder what it would have been like to make love to you and I'm never going to find out because you're about to walk out of my life forever and I'm never going to see you again and could you please stop and just tell me if you're the slightest bit attracted to strange men you've never met who come up to you on the street and hand you a flower (he hands her a flower)?

So what's he see in Molly Ringwald? All right, so she's got those I wanna check your oil red lips and there definitely is some kind of mutant allure to her "I'm so bored, hand me a Pepsi" kind of aloofness.

It's probably the same kind of challenge thing that makes all the guys I know sulk over girls more interested in dancing on the tables at Studebaker's and displaying the far side in mini, mini, mini skirts.

But it still doesn't make sense. At least not as much as it should.

In fact, little about Twentieth-Century Fox's "The Pick-Up Artist" makes sense.

The premise is simple enough. Scamming-guy Robert Downey lives for his list of phone numbers. It's roughly the length of the Constitution. And believe me sonny, he knows how to use it.

Enter perennially-bored Molly. She looks like she hasn't had a good time since the bicentennial, and that wasn't even on a date. She basically hates men. Or, rather, she likes men (don't get the wrong idea) but she just doesn't respect them.

Dad drinks too much.

Dad drinks way too much. And he gambles. And he enjoys reruns of "The Colbys." He is, quite frankly, an embarrassment of unnatural proportions.

Dennis Hopper, last seen as a belching sicko in "Blue Velvet" and an embarrassment of unnatural proportions in "Hoosiers," plays Molly's wino-pop with all the grace and skill of a pro. A prophylactic, that is.

Downey, meanwhile, meets up with miss Molly and proceeds to teach her the meaning of the word "Volvo."

But there's a catch — he gets hooked. He's head-over-heels, hook, line and sinker, over-the-edge in love with this girl. He's got babies and chew bones on the brain, and any thought of dialing one of the 6,000 numbers on his list has been lost. In fact, he's lost the list.

But will that be all he loses?

That's for you to find out. But you never really do. Downey chases Molly all over New York and he demonstrates that he's willing to do anything for her if she'll make woo-woo in the parking lot with him again.

But if there's any chemistry between them prompting Downey to sell his liver to science for her it wasn't very apparent.

And if the annoying plot twisting concerning Hopper's gambling debts and the goombahs out to remove his liver were an attempt to make the film more interesting then they probably shouldn't have bothered.

I'm still trying to decide if I should have.

Search for beautiful people ends at ASU

A member of the elite "Women You Wish Went To State" club punctuates the month of January. The NCCS National Collegiate Calendar Search recently came to ASU in search of new models.

Future Paulina Porizkovas and Dolph Ficks for the rag-and-flesh biz have made it over the first hurdle on their way to fame, money and lust in the hearts of millions.

Double D. Productions conducted interviews on Friday in the MU. Kirk Bowman, president of Double D. Productions, said that between 500-600 applicants attended, 60 percent of which were men.

Those selected will go to Acata Island in the Bahamas to work with photographer Larry Bartholomew, among others, for two weeks in January. According to Bowman, the models work with the top photographers and clothiers in the country.

Estimated earnings are from $150-$1000 each.

The models are paid only for the photos that are used, but Bowman said that the experience is invaluable for people who are breaking into the business.

Models get to keep the pictures shot of themselves and these can be used in portfolios. He added that this is a good way to get a taste of modeling if one is uncertain about it.

Double D. Productions does advertising and promotion for BodyGlove, Jimmy Z and Drapes Sportswear, as well as other surf wear companies. The company is best known for its calendars and the NCCS National Collegiate Calendar Search projects.

The four men and four women selected from ASU were Karen Dixon, Lisa Offe, Lisa Shoemaker, Kelly Torok, Brent Foster, Doug Rewers, Jerry Sieger and Troy Siren.

Test shots will be done for the next three days by Bartholomew on campus and other spots being scouted.

Starship mires in Slick's, music's depressing style

By SCOTT C. SECKEL
State Press

In a recent Rolling Stone interview, Grace Slick said music critics should perform acts upon themselves unnatural even to Dr. Ruth. But more explicitly than can be printed here.

Well Grace, the same can be suggested for Starship after the show that was put on Friday night at Gammage.

The latest name for this schizophrenic band is "Starship." Not only has this group of has-beens failed to figure out what to call themselves, they also really don't know what sound to emit.

They seem to be caught between bland pop and heavy metal that sounds worse than a busload of senior citizens getting slow service at Denny's. The only conceivable reason for buying a Starship album would be to figure out what Mickey Thomas' adenoidal voice was wailing about.

The fiasco was opened by a band called Icon. Hopefully, Icon will turn into a relic sometime soon. This posturing group of pathetic guitarists obviously spend more time at their hairstylists than practicing their wailing and moaning. In the meantime, Icon is to be put in the category of events to be avoided, along with inquisitions, black plagues, pogroms and civil wars in the Third World.

Starship opened with "We Built This City" and an unintelligible metal version of "Somebody to Love."

Normally concerts in small halls are better because they allow intimate contact between performer and crowd. In this case that factor was not used to advantage.

Grace Slick came across on stage as abrasive, egotistical and obnoxious. At one point she sneered at the half-filled Gammage, "At least some people are trying to have a good time here." This was apparently directed at the handful of people in the front rows that either a) have no taste in music or b) wouldn't know good music if it came up and bit their reproductive organs off. No sentient group of people likes to spend money on a poor concert or to be treated like garbage by someone they admire.

The rest of the band (Craig Chaquico on lead guitar and drummer Donny Baldwin) do not exude much presence, and not only because their performances are eclipsed by the overbearing Slick and Thomas. Chaquico is a fairly good guitarist but he does not seem to have a style of his own. His leads were unremarkable and few and far between.

If Ms. Slick does not care for critics' comments, that is simply too bad.

As of now, the only people she is going to get good reviews from are, to quote Churchill, "flaccid sea anemones of virtue barely able to wobble an antenna in the seas of negativity." Caveat emptor.

Sun Devils easily trounce weaker Pacific

Cooper gives backups chance on third quarter

By CHRIS DORSEY
State Press

The coin flip before the game was the only thing that went in the University of Pacific's favor Saturday night, as they were pummeled by the 15th-ranked Sun Devils, 31-12.

Pacific (1-2) deferred their choice to the second half, and from there the tide rolled out.

The Tigers came out roaring with their bag of tricks and attempted an on-side kick to begin the game. But ASU's Randall McDaniel recovered the football on their 36 yard line.

"It was a good win for our team," ASU head coach John Cooper said. "The main thing is we won the game, played a lot of players and come out of it healthy."

Cooper was able to get a look at his second and third team in the second half due to the rout.

"I brought our team here to compete," Pacific coach Bob Cope said. "That is why I started off with an on-side kick."

The Sun Devils came out on fire in front of a sellout crowd of 70,091. They executed their offense to perfection running through Pacific's hapless defense. In the opening drive, ASU marched 64 yards in eight plays.

Fullback Channing Williams carried the pigskin in from three yards out to put the Sun Devils up 6-0. That was the first of his three touchdown scampers.

Sophomore Alan Zendejas added the point after, to make the tally 7-0. And from there the Sun Devils would never look back.

Zendejas handled the kicking duties after a poor start by veteran Kent Bostrom last week at Illinois.

The sophomore comes from a family with a long line of kickers, including brother Luis — the all-time NCAA career scoring leader.

Zendejas was successful on his only field goal try of the night, a 29-yard boot in the third quarter.

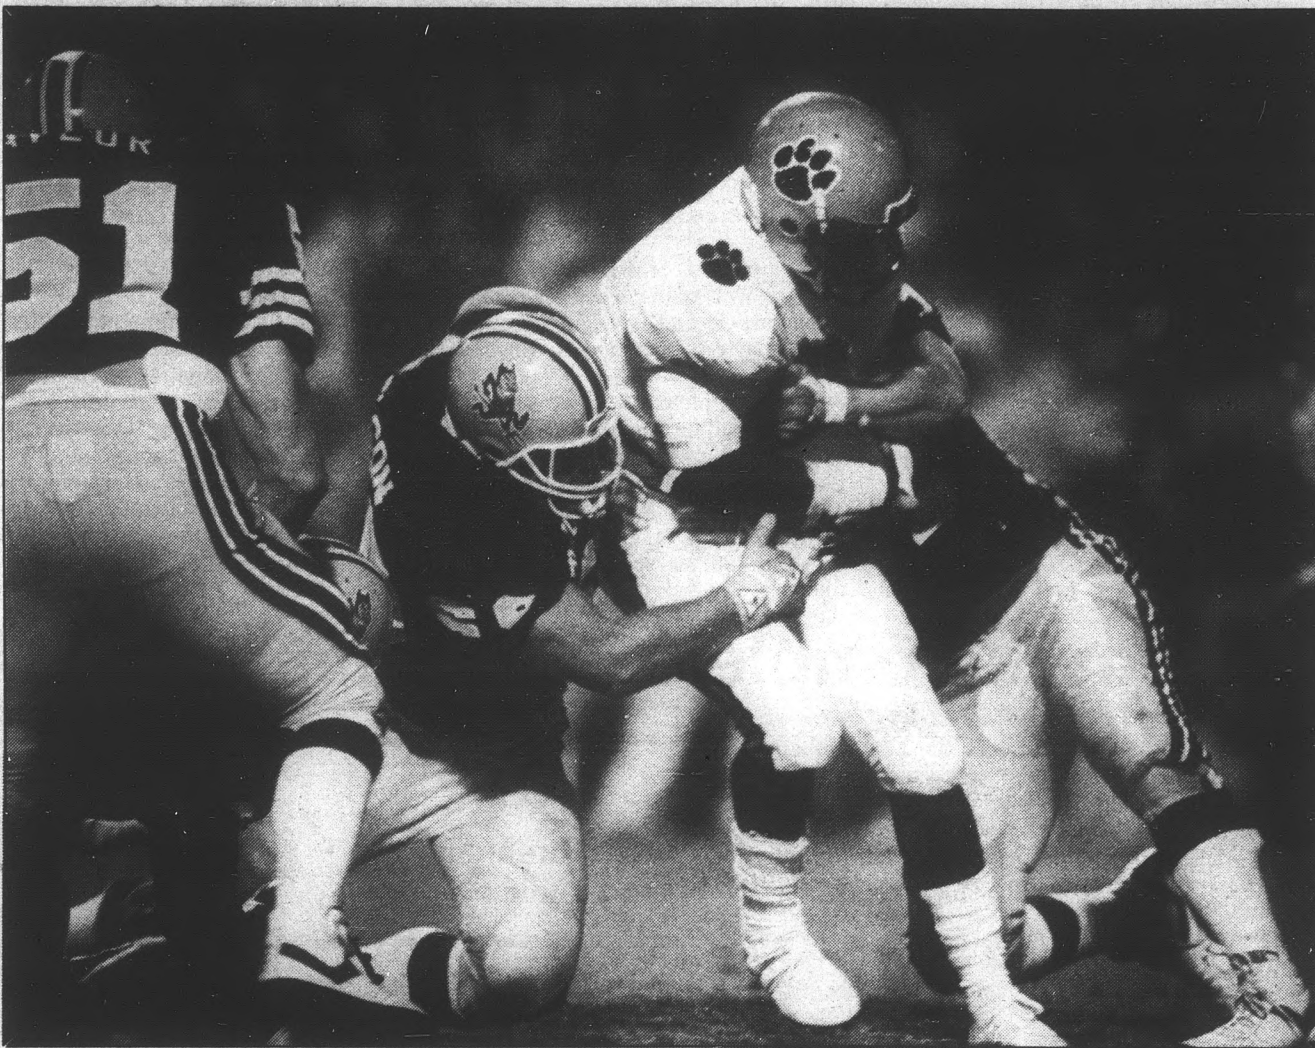

Both Cooper and ASU quarterback Dan Ford were concerned with a lack of team enthusiasm against an inferior team.

"We knew we had a lot more talent," Ford said. "I was afraid of us being down."

The ASU defense got a taste of Pacific's wishbone formation — which is widely used by Nebraska, ASU's next opponent. In the two previous games, Pacific averaged 186 yards on the ground. But the Sun Devils held them 60 yards under their average, allowing 126 yards.

Cooper said the contest would help the Sun Devils prepare for this week's matchup with No. 2 Nebraska.

The Tigers were led by redshirt freshman Ron Beverly. Making only his second start, he said he was nervous before the game.

Pacific quarterback Ron Beverly is sacked by Sun Devils Greg Joelson, No. 69, and Shawn Patterson, No. 97, during ASU's 31-12 victory Saturday night. Beverly sacked four times by the Sun Devils.

"I did not know what to expect," Beverly said. "They have a lot of team speed. In the first half we were sluggish and could not sustain a drive."

Pacific was shut down by the Devils in its first two drives. ASU came right back at the Tigers, with a mixture of aerial and running plays. The drive was capped by a 19-yard carry by Darryl Harris, which set up Williams' second score.

Harris, who ran for 108 yards against Illinois, was held to 76 yards Saturday night.

Williams, a 217-pound fullback saw a big hole off the left guard and ran past everybody from 34 yards out. Zendejas added the extra point to make the score 14-0.

ASU spikers beat OSU, drop to No. 17 Oregon

By JOAN McKENNA
State Press

Imagine what the Boston Celtics would do if, 30 minutes before game-time, Larry Bird sprained his ankle.

That is what head volleyball coach Debbie Brown faced before the Sun Devils' 3-0 victory over Oregon State (5-3, 2-0) in ASU's Pac-10 opener Friday night.

But losing a Kevin McHale on Sunday proved too much for the Devils (4-3, 1-1) as they lost their afternoon match to the Oregon Ducks, 3-1.

Key hitter Christy Nore twisted her foot a half-hour before game-time Friday and Brown quickly shuffled her players like checkers.

The Sun Devils' initial disorientation silenced 737 fans as the team dropped the first five points and failed to take advantage of five side outs.

Brown called a timeout, delivered a month's worth of instructions in one minute and the brand new Sun Devils came back fighting to win 15-5, 15-12, 15-5.

Brown said she was worried to say the least.

"We got off to an extremely slow start," she said. "It was really kind of scary."

"I knew they were just playing poorly because of apprehension over Christy."

The changes on the court included moving hitter Tracey Barberie to Nore's position on the left and putting Tracie Kistro in for Barberie at right. Brown said the novelty rattled their offense.

"They weren't used to each other and during the first two games they didn't pass well," she said. "All we could do was set outside."

But Brown said the Sun Devils passed much better in the third game, allowing setter Regina Stahl to spread out the offense.

Barberie found her feet first and started the rest of the squad's adrenaline flowing. She generated team high totals of 11 kills, 10 digs and three aces, before yielding the floor to freshman Kelly Plaisted in Game 3.

Kistro took a little longer to settle, but Brown attributed it to her normal role as a substitute.

"Tracie needs a little more time, but she's a smart player — really smart with the ball," Brown said. "If she gets a good set, she knows to hit away."

Brown said Kistro's consistency would come with more playing time. Kistro spiked 8 kills for a .455 hitting percentage.

Nore cheered from the side as some less prominent teammates came to the forefront. Middle blocker Dawn Meidinger, platooning with Noelle Fridrich, got both crowd and coach approval.

Meidinger plays when the position rotates to the front, and Fridrich competes in the back. But a coach can only substitute a position three times per game.

Brown said she has been pleased with the junior's ability to stay in when she can no longer switch players.

"Dawn did a real good job," Brown said. "When I had to leave her in the back row, her serving and defense were much better."

Sun Devil middle blocker Sue Nord (middle) waits for Oregon State outside hitter Kathie Baird (15) to respond to her block during the Sun Devils' win Friday night in the Activity Center.

"That's good to know if the matches go long." Meidinger said she is just glad to have a primary role, after backing up Tammy Webb in 1986.

"It's nice to have a chance to get in there without the nervousness you get as a substitution," Meidinger said. "I learned a lot from Tammy. Now I'm glad to have the chance to get in there."

Meidinger said she hopes to hang on to her position. "I gained good experience in the spring and I'm more confident," she said. "I still have a long way to go, but I'm having a lot of fun."

Freshman Mindy Gowell debuted in her first home game as a Sun Devil starter. Gowell showed a powerful arm in spiking and serving, and Brown said she felt Gowell played really well.

Clemson defeats Georgia with last-second kick

(AP) — It seems Clemson's David Treadwell gets a special kick out of beating Georgia.

Treadwell's 21-yard field goal with two seconds left Saturday gave the eighth-ranked Tigers a 21-20 victory over the 18th-ranked Bulldogs at Clemson, S.C.

It was the second straight year Treadwell has beaten Georgia with a last-second field goal. Last year, he kicked a 46-yarder with no time left, giving Clemson a 31-28 victory. "It's an incredible feeling," said Treadwell, who kicked four field goals in Saturday's game.

In other games involving ranked teams, it was No. 4 Louisiana State 49, Rice 16; No. 5 Ohio State 24, Oregon 14; No. 7 Florida State 41, Memphis State 24; No. 9 Notre Dame 31, No. 17 Michigan State 8; Texas A & M 29, No. 10 Washington 12; Florida 23, No. 11 Alabama 14; No. 12 Arkansas 27, Tulsa 7; No. 13 UCLA 17, Fresno State 0; No. 15 Arizona State 31, Pacific 12; Temple 24, No. 16 Pittsburgh 21; No. 19 Michigan 44, Washington State 18, and No. 20 Penn State 41, Cincinnati 0.

No. 1 Oklahoma, No. 2 Nebraska, No. 3 Auburn, No. 6 Miami and No. 14 Tennessee were idle.

Clemson defenders tackled Georgia quarterback James Jackson in the end zone with 5:38 left for a safety that cut the Bulldogs' lead to 20-18. Following the kickoff, the Tigers drove from their 42-yard line to the Georgia 5 to set up the winning field goal that gave Clemson consecutive season victories over Georgia for the first time since 1905-06.

No. 4 Louisiana St. 49, Rice 16

Harvey Williams rushed for 196 yards and three touchdowns, including a 60-yard run on the first play from scrimmage, for LSU.

LSU quarterback Tom Hodson threw for 228 yards and two TDs — an 80-yarder to Sam Martin and a 15-yarder to Eddie Fuller, who also scored on a 1-yard run in the fourth quarter.

No. 5 Ohio St. 24, Oregon 14

Vince Workman rushed for 162 yards and a touchdown, and Tom Tupa passed for two third-quarter touchdowns, leading Ohio State.

Tupa completed 20 of 32 passes for 234 yards, including touchdown tosses of 4 yards to Jay Koch and 19 yards to George Cooper, as the Buckeyes improved their record to 2-0.

No. 7 Florida St. 41, Memphis St. 24

Dexter Carter scored three touchdowns and his 74-yard run set up another for Florida State. Carter finished with 311 all-purpose yards. He rushed for 135 yards on 13 carries, caught four passes for 63 yards and returned four kickoffs for 113 yards.

The Seminoles scored on their first three possessions, building a 21-0 lead. Memphis State closed to 24-17 early in the third quarter, but Florida State pulled away on Carter's second and third touchdowns and a 41-yard field goal by Derek Schmidt.

Texas A & M 29, No. 10 Washington 12

Freshman quarterback Lance Pavlas sparked a sagging Texas A & M offense and the Aggies' defense bottled up Washington quarterback Chris Chandler.

The Aggies' defense didn't allow a touchdown and forced four Washington fumbles, including two by Chandler. Pavlas completed 13 of 19 passes after relieving senior Craig Stump in the second quarter.

Chandler, who entered the game with 514 yards passing in two games, completed 11 of 31 passes for 120 yards.

Florida 23, No. 11 Alabama 14

Freshman Emmitt Smith, making his first collegiate start, ran for a school-record 224 yards and two touchdowns for Florida. Smith broke the mark of 218 yards set in 1930 by Red Bethea.

It was Florida's first victory over the Crimson Tide since 1963, when Joe Namath was Alabama's quarterback.

No. 12 Arkansas 30, Tulsa 15

The Razorbacks scored on six of their first eight possessions and built a 30-7 lead after three quarters, despite throwing only four passes.

Freshman quarterback Quinn Grovey started his first game for Arkansas. He replaced senior Greg Thomas, who suffered a bruised sternum in last week's 31-10 victory over Mississippi.

Temple 24, No. 16 Pittsburgh 21

Todd McNair rushed for 213 yards and James Thompson scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 2-yard run early in the fourth quarter, leading Temple to the come-from-behind victory.

No. 20 Penn St. 41, Cincinnati 0

Running Blair Thomas and John Greene rushed for a total of 278 yards and three touchdowns for Penn State.

Thomas carried 22 times for 154 yards and Greene had 124 yards on 11 carries, the first time since 1984 that two Penn State backs ran for 100 or more yards in the same game. Greene scored twice and Thomas once, all on short plunges.

Sun Devils complete much-needed task in Pacific victory

For the second time in two weeks the ASU football team has been unimpressive. But the latter was for a reason.

The Sun Devils looked somewhat weak against Illinois, but against Pacific John Cooper's squad went out and did exactly what they wanted and needed to do: win big, stay healthy and give everyone some playing time.

That was impressive.

With Nebraska coming to merry Tempe next week, there certainly was temptation to rack up some big points and boost some confidence (along with The Associated Press rankings).

But Cooper managed to boost the confidence of everyone on the team — especially the player wearing No. 10 (backup quarterback Paul Justin) and a kicker wearing No. 8 (Alan Zendejas), who has been the only player to kick at a collegiate level for the Sun Devils after two games.

Both offenses (the first and second teams) were able to run a lot of plays and see what they were designed to do to the opposing team. The same holds true for both defenses.

Cooper said after the game that his team lacked enthusiasm, but performed in a satisfactory manner.

The very fact that the score was only 31-12 is a testament to Cooper's class and ability to organize a well-rounded and solid football team. That is what separates Rose Bowl champions from Rose Bowl contenders.

Final scores such as 77-10 and 69-3 are better left for teams in the Big 8.

The fans may have found the event rather mundane, but I think maybe next week things will be different.

Steve Brennan
Sports Editor

Perhaps there will be a little more excitement than ASU fans are ready for at the moment.

ASU defensive tackle Shawn Patterson expressed his prediction of next week's game rather eloquently.

"It's going to be a dogfight," Patterson said. "We're going to have to play above our heads to win."

Unfortunately, he is right.

It does ease one's palpitating heart to know that all of those second string ASU players, whose names nobody can remember, have a bit of turf from Sun Devil Stadium stuck to their cleats — mud and grass that will be dry and hard when they put them on their feet Sept. 26.

And those most relaxed by that knowledge are Dan Ford, Trace Armstrong, Rodney Dillard and Randall McDaniel, among others.

It will be guaranteed that the Sun Devils will be up for this game. Cooper may have been worried about enthusiasm Saturday night, but he won't have a lethargic bunch this week. After all, ASU's reputation is riding on it to some extent at least.

Sean L. Mohr/State Press

ASU running back Kirk Wendorf (20) takes the ball upfield as Victor Cahoon (31) prepares to block for him during the Sun Devil victory Saturday night.

Things are shaping up for the Nebraska game. It is going to be really hot, nationally televised, and there are going to be a lot of fireworks. Let's hope those fireworks come from the Tempe buttes.

I'm looking forward to it.

As ABC commentator Keith Jackson said during the USC-Boston College matchup, "Well, Nebraska is Nebraska; and you know the Cornhuskers are the Cornhuskers."

Huskies upset by Texas A & M

(AP) — Unranked Texas A & M defeated No. 10 Washington and No. 13 UCLA had to work harder than expected to blank Fresno State in weekend West Coast college football action featuring mostly non-conference Pac-10 and PCAA contests.

Washington suffered a 29-12 defeat at College Station, Texas. Huskies quarterback Chris Chandler ended the game with 11 completions in 31 attempts for 120 yards and two fumbles. Washington dropped to 2-1 as the Aggies evened their record at 1-1.

At the Rose Bowl, UCLA topped Fresno State 17-0 although the Bulldogs got 10 of the 18 quarterback sacks in the game. The Bruin defense had an easier time, holding Fresno State to minus-26 yards rushing. UCLA quarterback Troy Aikman passed for 143 yards and one touchdown and Gaston Green rushed for 115 yards and another score during the Bruins' first game against Fresno State since 1929. UCLA raised its record to 2-1, while Fresno State fell to 1-2.

Oregon fell to No. 5 Ohio State, 24-14, in Columbus, Ohio, evening its record at 1-1. Oregon managed a total offense of only 285 yards, including just 81 yards on the ground. Ohio State upped its mark to 2-0.

Southern Cal's Larry Smith got his first Trojan coaching victory in a 23-17 attack on Boston College in Los Angeles. Rodney Peete's two touchdown passes helped Southern Cal snap Boston's 10-game winning streak. Peete completed 14 of 22 passes for 248 yards as the Trojans' mark went to 1-1. Boston College dropped to 2-1.

Colorado defeated Stanford 31-17 at Boulder, Colo. The Cardinal finished with 72 yards on the ground, while the Buffaloes racked up 413 yards rushing. Colorado ran 89 plays to Stanford's 54. Colorado is now 1-1, while Stanford is 0-2.

San Jose State's 11-game winning streak came to an end in Corvallis, Ore., when Oregon State's Troy Bussanich booted in a 27-yard field goal with less than half a minute to go to give the Beavers a 36-34 victory and a 1-1 mark. Spartan quarterback Mike Perez threw three touchdowns as his team fell to 2-1.

Cal fell to Minnesota 32-23 at Minneapolis despite a 101-yard performance by Chris Richards over 20 carries. Coach Bruce Snyder, in his first year, fell to 1-2. Minnesota improved to 2-0.

In Tucson, Arizona defeated New Mexico 20-9 on a pair of touchdown passes by Bobby Watters, including a 94-yard completion to Alonzo Washington. Arizona evened its record at 1-1 while New Mexico fell to 0-3.

In Las Vegas, Charles Perry bolted into the end zone on a 2-yard run with 4:48 left in the game to rally Baylor to a 21-14 win over Nevada-Las Vegas. Perry rushed for 134 yards on 23 carries and picked up a key first down in the winning drive. Baylor upped its record to 2-1, while Las Vegas, now 0-2, lost its home opener for the first time since 1982.

Fullerton State defeated Long Beach State 31-12 in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association opener for both teams. The Titans, 1-2, drove 95 yards on their first possession to score and opened up a 17-6 halftime lead. The 49ers fell to 2-1.

Elsewhere, UC Santa Barbara clipped Claremont-Mudd 17-13.

Before you choose a long distance service, take a close look.

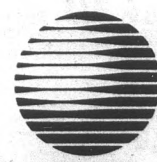

You may be thinking about choosing one of the newer carriers over AT&T in order to save money.

Think again.

Since January 1987, AT&T's rates have dropped more than 15% for direct-dialed out-of-state calls. So they're lower than you probably realize. For information on specific rates, you can call us at 1 800 222-0300.

And AT&T offers clear long distance connections, operator assistance, 24-hour customer service, and immediate credit for wrong numbers. Plus, you can use AT&T to call from anywhere to anywhere, all over the United States and to over 250 countries.

You might be surprised at how good a value AT&T really is. So before you choose a long distance company, pick up the phone.

Humble Williams decries honors

By CAROL BOOS
State Press

Channing Williams was named Player of the Game in the Sun Devils' 31-12 win over Pacific, but he turned down an opportunity to be on the John Cooper Show because "his performance wasn't good enough."

"The only impressive thing I saw was the way we worked as a team," Williams said after ASU's victory Saturday. "As long as I helped the team, I can't be disappointed."

Williams, a native of Sacramento, Calif., carried the ball 11 times for 93 yards including three touchdowns. He averaged 8.5 yards a carry in less than three quarters.

"If I had known Channing was close to 100, we would have let him get 100," head coach John Cooper said. "I didn't know he was close."

But most of the first team had finished by the third quarter in an effort to prevent injuries and let some of the younger players bid for jobs.

Williams said it was easy.

"Simple, little plays up the middle," he said.

And up the middle he went. On the Devils' initial drive of the game, Williams took his first carry 21 yards.

His first touchdown was a 3-yard run, his second a 34-yard run and his third a 9-yard run.

"I didn't expect it (winning) to be this easy," he said. "They didn't have any business being on the field."

But Williams doesn't expect the Cornhuskers to be easy! "They are bigger, better athletes, but I think we are ready for Nebraska," he said. "We just need to put our concentration on next week."

"We put all our attention on this team 'til the game was out of reach, then we started to think about Nebraska."

The Cornhuskers are ranked No. 2 in the nation, and some would rather not play a non-conference game against a team ranked as high as Nebraska — including Cooper.

"We don't need to play Nebraska," he said. "But it's a good game. It gives us a good chance for national recognition."

Williams, a 1983 graduate of Grant High School in Sacramento (near the University of Pacific), has high hopes for Saturday's match-up.

"Nebraska will be a true test of what kind of team we are," he said.

"I'm happy for Channing Williams," Cooper said. "He comes from the Sacramento area and this will be something for him to remember."

The 5-foot-10, 216-pound fullback is in his second season as a starter. Last year he rushed for 609 yards on 147 carries, ranking second to Darryl Harris (1,042 on 228 carries). He tied with Harris for most touchdowns, including four against Wichita State.

ASU fullback Channing Williams takes a handoff Saturday night. Williams was named Player of the Game after scoring three touchdowns and rushing for 93 yards.

Pacific

Williams led all rushers with 93 yards.

"When we jumped out to the 14-0 lead I felt we would win it," Cooper said. "But I would have like to have gotten a more comfortable lead earlier so we could have substituted more freely in the first half."

Ford drove ASU 35 yards in 54 seconds and made the halftime score 21-3 with a 17 touchdown pass to split end Aaron Cox, for his second TD catch of the season.

"He (Cox) made a great catch and ran a great route," Ford said.

The defense had an excellent first half, holding Pacific's option-style offense to only 44 total yards, all on the ground.

The Tigers' young quarterback was unable to complete a pass in the first half.

The defense was led by defensive tackle Shawn Patterson, who led the team in tackles with eight. Pat Taylor and Eric Allen each added seven stops.

"We really had a chance to make it a better game," Cope said. "They are a fine football team, we didn't need to help them but we did with a few penalties. You can't make mistakes against a great football team like Arizona State."

They are a top-20, national championship-type football team."

Cooper felt his squad made mistakes that cannot be repeated next week.

"We certainly weren't fired up," Cooper said. "We made some crucial mistakes tonight and we certainly can't do that next week against Nebraska."

"We have not played well enough in the last two games to beat Nebraska," Cooper said.

The Sun Devils play the Cornhuskers at 12:30 p.m. Saturday in front of a sellout crowd at Sun Devil Stadium.

Gowell would prove her worth by her absence on Sunday.

Veterans Sue Nord and Stahl watched Brown constantly for cues. Nord posted 8 kills and 6 digs while Stahl successfully assisted the offense 32 times.

But their importance in guiding the floor surpassed those numbers.

The match reached its peak in Game 3 with ASU in command, 7-1. Brown used the opportunity to work the rest of the team. Mary Ellen Boom closed the match with an ace. Kelly Plaisted was put to good use Sunday.

Nore's accident could not be patched to play. Trainer Joanne Dunnock said Nore sprained it warming up her hitting.

"She hurt it when she was doing her approach to the net," Dunnock said. "When she tried to plant her foot, she rolled her ankle."

Nore's ankle was X-rayed Saturday and Dunnock said the results were negative. "It's a second degree sprain," she said. "But we expect to have her back for U of A on Wednesday. She probably won't be 100 percent, though."

Nore said she was having trouble describing her foot's pain. "I'm not really sure about it. I can't tell how it feels."

Nore was limping without crutches on the sidelines Sunday, but had to watch with the others what unfolded.

The Sun Devils were up, 14-12, in the first game of the Oregon match when Gowell went down on the floor with a knee injury.

Dunnock said she would have to examine the knee before she would know what was wrong.

There also was a question on what had happened. "Mindy said she thinks someone might have hit her knee," Dunnock said. "We're just not sure."

Plaisted stepped into her serving spot and aced the point to win the game. But that was the beginning of the end.

Brown said losing both Gowell and Nore was too much.

"Christy and Mindy do about 80 percent of our passing," she said. "That means we had two different people handling the first contact of the ball."

"There's no question that, with Mindy and Christy, it would have been a different game."

Brown said Oregon was making points on ASU's mistakes. But she was pleased by Plaisted's play and the overall spirit of the team.

"I thought it was a real good effort," she said. "I'm encouraged we did that well."

The Sun Devils kept the scores close in the next three games, but failed to prevent Oregon from its 12-15, 15-6, 15-10, 15-13 victory.

Brown called ASU's last-ditch efforts to return the ball rough. But the effort showed in their statistics. Nord effectively placed 12 of 17 attempted kills for a .529 hitting percentage. Barberie, Nord and Plaisted collected 38 of the team's 55 digs. Oregon only had 40 total digs.

The Sun Devils do not play at home again until the Washington State game Oct. 9. The Sun Devils play arch rival Arizona Wednesday in Tucson.

Cards win, Mets lose in tight NL divisional race

Cardinals 10, Cubs 2
ST. LOUIS (AP) — John Morris drove in a career-high four runs with two singles and an infield out and Vince Coleman knocked in three, leading St. Louis to a 10-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

Right-hander Bob Forsch, 11-5, weathered Andre Dawson's two-run homer in the first to win for the first time in six starts since Aug. 10. Forsch, 37, allowed three hits and struck out eight before leaving with two outs in the sixth because of a strained groin.

Rafael Palmeiro walked on four pitches with two outs in Chicago's first, and Dawson followed with his National League-leading 45th homer.

Willie McGee singled and stopped at third base on Terry Pendleton's double to trigger St. Louis' comeback. After Morris singled both runners home for a 2-2 tie, the Cardinals went ahead on Coleman's RBI grounder that followed a Cubs error.

Morris' run-scoring groundout made it 4-2 off Greg Maddux, 6-13, in the third, and the Cardinals moved out of reach by scoring four runs in the fifth against Chicago reliever Mike Mason.

Pirates 9, Mets 8
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Barry Bonds tripled and scored on Andy Van Slyke's sacrifice fly in the 14th inning as the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied from four runs behind to hand the New York Mets a costly 9-8 loss Sunday.

The loss dropped the Mets 2½ games behind the National League East-leading St. Louis Cardinals.

With one out in the 14th, Bonds hit a shot down the right field line that eluded Darryl Strawberry, allowing Bonds to stretch the hit into a triple. Jose Lind was intentionally walked before Randy Myers replaced Bob Ojeda, 2-5.

Van Slyke then lofted a sacrifice fly to score Bonds.

John Smiley, 5-4, the Pirates' seventh pitcher, pitched 1½ hitless innings for the victory.

Reds 10, Giants 6
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nick Esasky's grand slam homer capped a six-run ninth inning rally and lifted the Cincinnati Reds to a 10-6 victory Sunday over the San Francisco Giants.

The Reds, who entered the ninth trailing 6-4, snapped the Giants' seven-game winning streak and pulled to within eight games of first place.

Cincinnati began its winning rally with a leadoff single by Barry Larkin. Kal Daniels, who previously had a double and two homers, singled and Jeff Treadway followed with a run-scoring single.

Kelly Downs replaced loser Don Robinson, 10-7, and Eric Davis walked, loading the bases. Craig Lefferts took over and Dave Parker's sacrifice fly tied the score.

After Buddy Bell walked on four pitches, loading the bases, Jon Perlman replaced Lefferts and Esasky belted a 1-2 pitch off the top of the left field screen for his 22nd homer of the season and his fourth career grand slam.

Reliever Rob Murphy, 7-5, was the winner and John Franco retired the Giants in the ninth.

Astros 3, Padres 2
HOUSTON (AP) — Pinch-hitter Jim Pankovits hit a bases-loaded single in the ninth to give Houston a 3-2 victory over San Diego Sunday, snapping a five-game winning streak for the Padres and a four-game losing streak for the Astros.

Kevin Bass led off the ninth with a double. An intentional walk to Glenn Davis and an intentional walk to pinch-hitter Davey Lopes, after Chuck Jackson's sacrifice bunt, loaded the bases before Pankovits delivered the game-winning hit.

Mike Scott, 16-12, was the winner, pitching his eighth complete game of the season, allowing four hits while striking out seven and walking three.

Mark Davis, 8-8, was the loser in relief of starter Eric Nolte, giving up two hits and a run.

BoSox sweep 2 in twin-bill; continue mastery of Orioles

Red Sox 5, Orioles 1
Red Sox 6, Orioles 3
BALTIMORE (AP) — Todd Benzinger hit a two-run homer on an 0-2 pitch from Tom Niedenfuer in the ninth inning of the second game, giving the Boston Red Sox a 6-3 victory over Baltimore and a sweep of Sunday's double-header.

Dwight Evans hit his 34th homer and Roger Clemens pitched a three-hitter to give Boston a 5-1 victory in the opener.

The loser of the nightcap was Luis DeLeon, 0-2, who yielded a leadoff single in the ninth to Evans before being lifted. Benzinger then lined his sixth homer of the season to break a 3-3 tie. John Sheaffer had an RBI single later in the inning.

Wes Gardner, 2-6, became the winner after allowing a two-run homer by Fred Lynn to forge a 3-3 tie in the eighth.

Lynn hit his 22nd homer on the second pitch from Gardner, who replaced rookie John Leister after Rene Gonzales singled with one out.

Boston was held to one hit in the nightcap, a one-out fifth inning double by Ed Romero, before chasing rookie Eric Bell, 9-13, during a three-run rally in the sixth inning. Trouble started when first baseman Eddie Murray failed to hold a throw from Bell on a one-out chopper by Ellis Burks.

After Burks stole second, Jody Reed walked, and an RBI single by Marty Barrett finished Bell.

Evans, who has career high in homers and 118 RBI, singled off DeLeon to score Reed and make it 2-1. Barrett came home as Benzinger hit into a forceout, making it 3-1. Two of the runs were unearned.

Rookie John Leister, 1-1, who had a 13.85 earned run average in five appearances, allowed two hits in the fourth and three in the fifth inning, but was helped by poor Baltimore base running.

Rangers 2, Angels 1
ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Darrell Porter drew a bases-loaded walk with one out in the 10th inning to force in the winning run, and Steve Howe won in relief as the Texas Rangers beat the California Angels 2-1 Sunday.

Howe, 3-3, came on to start the ninth after Charlie Hough had allowed one run on six hits. Howe pitched two perfect innings.

The walk to Porter came off relieved DeWayne Buice, who replaced loser Greg Minton, 4-4, after Scott Fletcher singled to start the 10th.

Fletcher stole second and went to third as Ruben Sierra bounced out. After Pete O'Brien was intentionally walked, Tom O'Malley drew a walk to load the bases and Porter walked on four straight pitches.

Minton came on to start the eighth after Willie Fraser went the first seven and allowed one run on five hits.

White Sox 5, Mariners 3
CHICAGO (AP) — Carlton Fisk singled home Ivan Calderon for his 16th game-winning hit to trigger a four-run fifth inning as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Seattle Mariners 5-3 Sunday.

Rookie Jack McDowell and Seattle starter Mike Moore, 7-19, were locked in a scoreless duel when Calderon opened the fifth with a double. Calderon, who had four hits, went to third on an infield out. Fisk singled home Calderon and scored from first on Daryl Boston's double.

A triple by Kenny Williams scored Boston, and Williams scored on Steve Lyons' sacrifice fly.

Making his second major league appearance and victory in five days, McDowell extended his scoreless inning streak to 13 before giving up a two-run double in the seventh to rookie Edgar Martinez for only the fourth Seattle hit.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F/H

“HOW I MADE $18,000 FOR COLLEGE BY WORKING WEEKENDS.”

When my friends and I graduated from high school, we all took part-time jobs to pay for college.

They ended up in car washes and hamburger joints, putting in long hours for little pay.

Not me. My job takes just one weekend a month and two weeks a year. Yet, I'm earning $18,000 for college.

Because I joined my local Army National Guard.

They're the people who help our state during emergencies like hurricanes and floods. They're also an important part of our country's military defense.

So, since I'm helping them do such an important job, they're helping me make it through school.

As soon as I finished Advanced Training, the Guard gave me a cash bonus of $2,000. Then, under the New GI Bill, I'm getting another $5,000 for tuition and books.

Not to mention my monthly Army Guard paychecks. They'll add up to more than $11,000 over the six years I'm in the Guard.

And if I take out a college loan, the Guard will help me pay it back — up to $1,500 a year, plus interest.

It all adds up to $18,000 — or more — for college for just a little of my time. And that's a heck of a better deal than any car wash will give you.

THE GUARD CAN HELP PUT YOU THROUGH COLLEGE, TOO. SEE YOUR LOCAL RECRUITER FOR DETAILS, CALL TOLL-FREE 800-638-7600,* OR MAIL THIS COUPON.
