Sherman to back Giuliano in Tempe mayoral election

BY JASON HILL
STATE PRESS

One Tempe mayoral candidate will find it hard to obtain the votes of former mayoral candidate Barbara Sherman supporters in the May general election.

Sherman, who was ousted from the mayoral primary election on March 22, received 3,529 votes, or 28.4 percent. She levied her support to mayoral candidate Neil Giuliano, leaving Don Cassano to his own devices.

"I believe an administration led by Neil Giuliano will be open and include all citizens," Sherman said. "Perhaps because of his youth and friendliness, Neil is willing to listen to new and different ideas."

"I encourage all citizens to vote on May 10 in Tempe's general election," Sherman said.

Giuliano, who is 34 years old, works at ASU as a director for community relations. He also is Tempe's vice mayor.

"Hopefully this will motivate people to come and vote. The important thing is that people get involved," Giuliano said.

Giuliano said he is pleased by Sherman's support and will be anxious to see if her support is essential in the general election.

Cassano is hopeful that Tempeans will remain "free thinkers" and not allow the endorsement to sway their decision.

"I just don't subscribe to the philosophy that voters will cast their votes because of the endorsement. They are voters, they are intelligent, and they can make their own decisions," Cassano said.

Recently Cassano, Giuliano and Sherman met at City Hall to discuss issues in an open forum. Cassano and Sherman clashed on the idea of allowing a citizen representative to sit in on discussion between Tempe officials and the Federal Aviation Administration.

"He is simply uninterested in allowing citizens to be represented in the airport issue," Sherman said.

Cassano disagreed with Sherman.

"I wouldn't compromise my feelings," Cassano said. "If I'm elected mayor, I will not sit down and compromise citizens' interests," he said.

Both Sherman and Giuliano support the idea.

To our readers ...

Today marks this semester's final edition of the State Press. Congratulations to photo editor Brian Fitzgerald, sports editor Mike Branom, magazine editor Troy Fuss, assistant magazine editor Britton Mauchline, reporters Jason Hill and Paul Matthews, columnist Melanie Selcho and production assistant Ken Collins — our graduating staff members.

Next semester, the State Press will be under the direction of new editor Jason Owsley. Also look for the summer edition of the State Press, which will be distributed on a weekly basis.

Affidavit: Police were led to believe Vollen was mentally ill

BY CHRIS DRISCOLL
AND DAVID STROW
STATE PRESS

Phoenix police were led to believe that the former director of ASU's Department of Student Health was mentally ill with a history of violence on ASU's campus, according to a Maricopa County Medical Center psychiatrist in an affidavit signed Thursday.

The information led police on August 28, 1993, to detain Dr. Laurie Vollen, who had been the University's top health official until being removed from office in March 1993.

Police then took Vollen to the Maricopa County Medical Center psychiatric ward and petitioned to have her committed there.

According to Dr. M. Caswell, the officers claimed Vollen "had a history of violence on the ASU campus" and that "Dr. Vollen was dangerous, not only to herself, but to the police and bystanders as well."

Caswell determined after six hours of examination that Vollen was mentally sound, and she was released.

Two sources associated with the ASU Department of Public Safety, who asked that their names be withheld out of fear of retaliation, confirmed that ASU police officers were briefed that Vollen was a "918," a police code for a mentally ill person.

Craig Emanuel, chief of ASU DPS, said that he could not recall whether the briefing took place.

"I was briefed on this, but you can imagine the number of briefings I get," he said. "I just don't feel like I can be accurate on this."

However, Emanuel said Vollen was not mentally ill.

"Was she '918'? No, she wasn't," he said. "But we're not qualified to make any determination of mental stability."

Mary Stevens, the ASU General Counsel attorney assigned to the Vollen case, denied the allegations.

"It's not my understanding that (that) happened," Stevens said. "I don't know. I'm not aware that our DPS told that to the Phoenix Police Department."

Vollen filed a $19 million lawsuit in Maricopa County Superior Court on March 9. In her complaint, she accused ASU Athletic Director Charles Harris of usurping her authority as student health director by making medical decisions and revamping the student athlete policy.

Vollen had been detained previously under suspicion of the theft of a computer from the Student Health Center on July 10, 1993, according to police reports obtained by the State Press. The computer was not found in her vehicle, and she was released.

Christine Wilkinson, vice president of Student Affairs, said Thursday that the computer has not been recovered. She declined to comment on any other aspect of the case, including whether or not she had any knowledge of the DPS' labeling of Vollen as mentally ill.

ASU officials that declined to comment were: Lattie Coor, ASU president; Bill Bess, director of ASU DPS; Milton Glick, ASU senior vice president and Provost of Academic Affairs; and Paul Ward, ASU General Counsel.

Cleanup event slated for today

BY MIKA AKIKUNI
STATE PRESS

Stressed with all those class assignments? Take a break and help clean campus.

Members of the ASU community are urged to volunteer to participate in the first Campus Cleanup and Recycle Day today, said Val Peterson, director of Facilities Management at ASU.

The cleanup day, which will be coordinated by the Grounds Department, will start at 7 a.m. at the Cady Mall fountain with faculty, staff and students coming together to clean. Inside they will clean cabinets and desk drawers of different campus offices. Garbage will also be collected outside the buildings.

"We are having the first annual cleanup day in April because we wanted to tie it with environmental issues and the Earth Day," Peterson said. "Some of us want an excuse to clean up our files, too."

Peterson said he does not know how many students will be attending the event.

"Hopefully, as years go by, we will pick up more and more students."

ASU President Lattie Coor supports the event.

"I am convinced this effort is a worthwhile investment of our time and will result in an enjoyable change of pace for all participants," Coor said. Coor also said he hopes the Campus Cleanup and Recycle Day will become an annual event.

Peterson, who said that the cleanup will be done at 5 p.m. today, added that this is a good opportunity for offices to recycle their old furniture. Trash dumpsters, along with recycling containers, will be set up at six campus locations: between Stauffer Hall and Payne hall, near the fountain on Cady Mall, outside the bookstore on Orange Street, next to Old Main and next to Parking Structure 5.

Turman reflects as his term comes to a close

Says ASASU's problems stem from politicians, voters alike

BY GREG ZEMEIDA
STATE PRESS

Associated Students of ASU President Rossie Turman wants to make one thing crystal clear — ASASU's problems are everyone's fault.

Turman, whose term comes to an end on May 16, not only blamed ASASU representatives for tarnishing the association's image by constantly bickering, but also blamed students for letting them get away with it.

"I think we have a whole ideological problem on this campus," Turman said. "What we (students) have done, and I was guilty of it too, is we marginalized ASASU, as like, we are not part of it, it's some organization ... that sits over here on the third floor (of the Memorial Union) and that's wrong, that's untrue, that's a misnomer."

"ASASU is everyone of us because ASASU comes out of every one of our pockets every time we register."

Turman said the real problems with ASASU are the people that the students chose to represent them.

He also blamed students for the low turnout during this spring's elections, with only about 2,000 students voting. He said it wasn't a sign of apathy, but a sign of "stupidity."

"It really irks me that six candidates can run for president (and only) 2 percent of the people vote, and we have a potential to have people (in ASASU) who couldn't even collect 1,000 votes," Turman said. "And guess what? They are going to be making decisions for each and every one of you next year."

"It's ignorant for us to write off an organization (like ASASU) which runs our lives. I say 'runs our lives' because every single time (the administration) wants a student to give an opinion ... or give a blessing to something, they come to (ASASU)."

"If you as a student ... feel very comfort-

"If you as a student ... feel very comfortable letting yahoos decide policy for your life as a student, then fine."

— Rossie Turman,
ASASU president

able letting yahoos decide policy for your life as a student, then fine."

ASASU members that spend too much time on internal issues and not enough on student issues that are at the root of the association's negative image, Turman said.

"I had something written (on my wall) that said (ASASU's power is) play power, but some people think it's real power," he said. "I think some people feel a need for power."

"There's another statement that's made — 'Adults take a job or position to do something; children take a job or position to be somebody.' I think a lot of people (in ASASU) want to be somebody; they don't (join ASASU) to do something."

Turman has suggested a way to possibly reduce the power plays of some ASASU representatives — videotape their meetings and broadcast them on campus and on a Tempe cable access channel.

He said he hopes future ASASU members will go along with this idea and let people see what the group actually does.

"When (ASASU members) have to be accountable for what they say and what they do, instead of just representing themselves, I think that's going to change some things," Turman said.

Turman has witnessed numerous controversies during his term as president that have added to ASASU's negative image.

There was the forced resignation of former ASASU Executive Vice President Caesar Tima, the difficulties surrounding the student regent selection process and, most recently, the improper campaign financial statements of ASASU President-Elect Marci Hendrickson.

Turman referred to the student regent bickering as absurd and ridiculous.

"I expected it. When I sat down and designed the process, I knew that when something is important to a lot of people ... they will resort to a lot of different things," he said.

Turman himself lashed out at the ASU West student government, calling its members liars for not sticking with the agreed upon selection process. He said he doesn't regret that statement.

"It was true. They had a reason, in their opinion, for breaking their word, and it's open for debate and open for discussion as to whether those were viable reasons," Turman explained. "My point is just to say (they) broke their word."

As for regrets, Turman said he wished he had more time to interact with students in the fall. He said that after the ASASU advisor left early last semester, he was doing two jobs at the same time and couldn't do as much as he wanted to for students.

He was pleased with all of the things he did this spring, which included his hamburger giveaway that exemplified how many burgers could be made for $250, the amount of an anticipated tuition increase. The tuition was later increased only $50.

Turman will graduate this spring with a bachelor's degree in political science and a minor in law. He plans to attend graduate school in the fall to work on a possible law degree.

He has applied to many schools for his graduate studies, most notably Columbia and Harvard.

Turman has one last piece of advice for students, which may also double as a warning to future ASASU representatives:

"I think students should watch (ASASU) like a hawk. It has too much power to ignore."

Arizona to sue government for alien incarceration costs

PHOENIX (AP) — Arizona will sue the federal government in an effort to recover the cost of incarcerating illegal aliens in state prisons, a state official said Thursday.

Rob Carey, first assistant attorney general, said the suit was still being drafted and could be filed in U.S. District Court in Phoenix as early as Friday.

The action will parallel a suit to be filed in San Diego Friday by the state of California, Carey said.

A similar suit already has been filed by Florida and Texas may sue as well, Carey said. He said the suits probably would be consolidated at some point.

Arizona will seek reimbursement for the cost of housing some 1,600 illegal aliens in the state's prisons, which Carey said is nearly $25 million a year. In addition, the state will ask for more than $55 million, the cost of building a 1,600-bed prison, he said.

Court worker accidentally shot by pistol in her purse

GLENDALE (AP) — A court worker who carried a derringer in her purse for protection against her ex-husband was badly wounded Thursday when she dropped the bag and the .38-caliber pistol discharged, authorities said.

Janis Wylie was at her desk in a courthouse office when the accident occurred minutes before the court opened, said Justice of the Peace Quentin V. Tolby. The bullet hit her in the left side of her chest.

"I was in chambers when I heard the gun discharge. I jumped up and ran out the building screaming for someone to call 911," Tolby said.

Wylie was in critical condition when admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical center, but her condition was upgraded to serious by late Thursday afternoon, said hospital spokeswoman Debra Gelbart.

Health Services will launch a new hantavirus program

PHOENIX (AP) — The Arizona Department of Health Services will launch a statewide campaign in May to raise awareness to hantavirus, which has killed six Arizonans.

The agency will hold demonstrations for groups who come in contact with rodents, believed to be carriers of the disease, and distribute information to schools and health clinics.

Since the outbreak of the disease in the Four Corners region a year ago, 15 Arizonans have contracted the disease. Nationwide, 69 cases and 40 deaths have been confirmed in 17 states.

"Whether you are camping, hiking or spring cleaning, you should take precautions to avoid contact with rodents," said state epidemiologist Lawrence Sands.

Hantavirus is believed transmitted by inhaled airborne particles of urine, droppings or saliva from infected rodents.

CIA spy given life sentence

Court to sentence wife in August

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Aldrich Ames, the highest-paid and highest-ranking Russian spy ever caught inside the CIA, was sentenced to life in prison without parole Thursday in what a prosecutor called "the most damaging spy case in the history of this country."

Ames, 52, pleaded guilty without a trial and admitted being paid $2.5 million by the Soviet Union and then Russia since April 1985 for U.S. secrets. Once head of counter-intelligence in the CIA's Soviet-East Europe section, Ames admitted disclosing the identities of 10 Russian officials and one East European who were spying for the United States or Great Britain.

Prosecutors said at least four Soviet KGB or GRU (military intelligence) agents among the 11 were executed. U.S. Attorney Helen Fahey told a news conference, "He traded people's lives for $2.5 million."

Ames said he never learned the fate of those he betrayed. But reading his first public statement since his Feb. 21 arrest, Ames expressed "deepest sympathy" for those "who may have suffered from my actions."

Professing "profound shame and guilt" for "this betrayal of trust, done for the basest motives," money to pay debts, Ames nevertheless said he did not believe he had "noticeably damaged" the United States or "noticeably aided" Moscow.

"These spy wars are a sideshow which have had no real impact on our significant security interests over the years," he told the court in a matter-of-fact tone.

Ames' wife, Rosario, 41, also pleaded guilty to conspiring to commit espionage and evade income taxes, but the government said she aided and supported her husband's treachery without ever handling or transmitting secrets to the Russians.

U.S. District Judge Claude Hilton deferred

Former CIA agent Aldrich Ames leaves federal court in Alexandria, Va., Thursday, after pleading guilty to the espionage and tax evasion conspiracy charges. Aldrich was sentenced to life in prison.

her sentencing until Aug. 26 so the government has time to see whether Ames fulfills his agreement to tell investigators everything he disclosed, how he operated and any help he may have received.

"The results of his debriefing will be very influential," in her sentencing, her attorney William Cummings said. As part of the plea bargain with the Ameses, prosecutors have agreed to recommend she be sentenced to 63 to 72 months, which Cummings said means she could be released, with time off for good behavior, in somewhat more than four-and-a-half years at the earliest.

The Ameses accepted the deal in part so

Mrs. Ames could be freed in time to help rear their 5-year-old son, Paul, who is staying with relatives in Colombia, her native land.

In another part of the deal, the Ameses agreed to give the government any future payments they might earn for the sale of their stories and all their assets. These include their $540,000 suburban home, Jaguar and Honda cars, Ames' pension for 31 years in the CIA, all domestic bank accounts and all foreign accounts, which Ames' attorney Plato Cacheris estimated hold less than $100,000 now.

"This plea agreement leaves Mr. Ames and his wife penniless," Fahey said.

Israelis, Palestinians set to sign accord

Schedule agreements on Arab self-rule

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — A historic accord to launch Palestinian self-rule on land held by Israel is due to be signed Wednesday if a few remaining sticky disputes can be settled.

For the Palestinians it will be the first step toward what many hope will be a state. For Israel it is a chance to end bloody conflict between two peoples who claim the same land.

"It's the end of a long voyage and the beginning of a new chapter in relations between the Palestinian people and ourselves," said Israel's foreign minister, Shimon Peres, long an advocate of conciliation toward the Arabs on all fronts.

The date was set by Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak, who played a pivotal role in the breakthrough, even as Secretary of State Warren Christopher abandoned a passive U.S. stance to help Peres and PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat narrow their differences.

Christopher said he would remain in the region "to assist in any way I can." He then flew to Tel Aviv for a meeting Friday with Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin. Their agenda includes the stalled peace talks Israel had been holding with three Arab countries, Syria, Jordan and Lebanon.

Rabin will go to Cairo to see Arafat Tuesday night. That is the eve of what Mubarak said both sides had approved for signing the accord to implement the Palestinian self-rule declaration that was signed at the White House last September.

It will send 8,000 Palestinian policemen, some armed with machine guns, to Jericho and Gaza, where Palestinians will begin to administer their own affairs. A timetable set last summer by Israel and the PLO called for implementation to begin last Dec. 13 and be concluded by April 13.

However, negotiations stumbled over issues of security, including the protection of several thousand Jews who live in Gaza, the size of the Palestinian police force and how large an area Jericho comprises.

Mubarak, announcing the breakthrough in a four-way news conference with Christopher, Arafat and Peres, said "some small issues, maybe a little bit difficult," remained.

The two principal ones were Jericho's size and the role of Palestinian police on a bridge leading from Jordan to the West Bank and a passage from Egypt to Gaza. Israel wants to screen out potential terrorists, while the PLO is seeking to establish its authority in every way possible as a prelude to what it hopes will be statehood.

Christopher delayed his departure for Tel Aviv to hold another meeting with Arafat. On Saturday he will fly to Damascus to talk to Syrian President Hafez Assad about his demand to recover the Golan Heights, a strategic enclave Israel won in the 1967 Six-Day war with Syria, Egypt and Jordan.

Daughters learn workplace ABCs, from airports to zoos

American Airlines Capt. Rick Huber guides his daughter Lori, 16, through a landing in an airbus flight simulator Thursday. Lori accompanied her father to work as part of Take Our Daughters to Work Day.

Associated Press — A spirited army of girls invaded the U.S. workplace Thursday as the second annual "Take Our Daughters to Work" day proved even more popular than the first, despite scattered objections to its girls-only focus.

The event, involving thousands more employers than last year's hastily organized debut, was designed to boost girls' self-esteem and expand their career horizons.

"These girls are so different when they know we're focusing on their dreams, when they're not competing (with boys) for attention," said Marie Wilson, president of the sponsoring Ms. Foundation.

Girls visited workplaces from the White House, where more than 200 daughters gathered for lunch, to a Cincinnati house where a stay-at-home mom prevailed over a school principal who said homemaking wasn't a job.

At BP America's headquarters in Cleveland, girls mixed chemicals to make slime. At the Aurora Fire Department near Denver, girls wrestled with fire hoses. At the New York law firm of Debevoise & Plimpton, girls sat through a seminar called "Thinking Like a Lawyer."

A few employers, including the Chrysler Corp. and the city of Bellevue, Wash., refused to participate, saying the program wasn't fair to boys.

"We believe it would be fairer to sponsor events that would welcome all children to explore career options," Chrysler spokeswoman Karen Stewart said.

Other employers did just that, inviting boys and girls. "There's been a lot of interest expressed by sons, and they've asked to be included," said Jennifer Wold at ABB Environmental Services in Portland, Maine. "We have tried to broaden our approach."

But organizers said they would stick to their emphasis on girls.

"When boys and girls are together, in the classroom or on field trips, boys get more attention," said Nell Merlino at the Ms. Foundation. "Until we figure out how to balance that, we do need to periodically separate girls and boys for experiences like this."

STATE PRESS Editorial

Best of the Editorial Board

Each day this semester, members of the Editorial Board have worked together to write the "State Press Editorial" of the day. Though the editorials are unsigned, astute observers have remarked that the writing styles denote the articles' authors. Below are a few of the more memorable quotes.

"This semester, the State Press' new editorial board has opted to restore coverage of ASASU. The organization may be chock-full of petty politics, but it's our journalistic duty to make its leaders' actions accountable to the students who elected them." (1/18/94)

"How far can a public official go to ensure that the right policy is made — [ASU Professor Lewis] Tams might say that deceiving Congress in matters of foreign policy is fine. But would it also be agreeable to defy Congress on domestic matters? To conceal information? To order the 101st Airborne to occupy the Capitol building until a balanced budget is passed?" (1/20/94)

"The consideration of such bills is an insult to this state. Let's hope they disintegrate quickly into the Legislature's endless shuffle of paperwork." (1/31/94)

"Sometimes you have to wonder if Arizona's educational system is directed by a cabal of conspirators in Tucson." (2/7/94)

"Among the many virtuous messages conveyed in Lillehammer, Norway, over the weekend in the spirit of the Olympic games, one moral lesson commands the most attention: blackmail pays." (2/14/94)

"So if you're ASASU, how could you sucker students into paying more money? By introducing Senate Bill 97, that's how." (3/3/94)

"Failure of each student to protest what he or she feels is unjust will only get the student body as a whole pushed around even more." (3/29/94)

"Calling the two ASU landmarks Martin Luther King Jr. Stadium and Cesar Chavez Center will pay tribute to nothing but political correctness, which is already a big enough obstacle in the fight for civil rights." (4/8/94)

"As it stands, the universities' standards of admission are far from rigorous. (The average amount of time State Press Editorial Board members spent filling out their applications for admission to ASU was about 10 minutes.)" (4/14/94)

"Has it occurred to either Wolett or Wilhelm that they are representative leaders? and that the majority of student opinion [regarding a stadium name change] expressed has been a big, fat, cynical smirk?" (4/15/94)

"If it works in Bosnia, why shouldn't (insert your favorite Balkan villain here) continue such tactics elsewhere... In Kosovo, Macedonia, Vojvodine, the Banat, Transylvania, Moldavia, the Crimea — Bosnia is not the only land split between several ethnicities." (4/18/94)

"You want an angry rant? I'll give you an angry rant: If I were to go to be anti-male, I wouldn't stop with white males: I'd hate 'em in every color of the damn rainbow. Why? Because if I really wanted to lay blame for much that is violent and nasty and unpleasant in the world, I could lay a ton of it at the feet of men." (3/23/94)

"The result of Coor's latest brain storm is the expansion of cultural and ethnic studies departments to include non-conventional criteria, such as an individual's sexual behavior or choice of partner. While this may inoculate ASU from accusations of cultural insensitivity, how will existing faculty members feel when there is less money to go around for cost-of-living adjustments? ASU, like a sow with more piglets than nipples, will have a few going hungry." (2/2/94)

"If [the ASU men's basketball team] had agreed to throw a game and then went on to win by 18 points, [ASU Coach Bill] Frieder and his team would probably be wearing concrete high-tops in the Pacific Ocean by now. But it was the media's obligation to make sure it was all just an unusual coincidence." (3/10/94)

"I don't think I ever could have anticipated in a million years that John Bobbitt — the person whose name evokes a collective wince among all men — would be dating the girl who was once the apple of my eye." (3/28/94)

"If ASU ever wants to be taken seriously as an institution devoted to the cause of civil rights, it's going to take much more than deciding to rename a couple of buildings." (4/11/94)

"How seriously can suit-wearing, pager-wielding, cellular phone-toting ASASU representatives be taken when they beg legislators for funding and ask regents not to raise tuition?" (4/26/94)

Opinion

A. MarJory Kaminski
Bi-weekly columnist
Senior, journalism

"Now that the Olympic flame has been doused, I have one thing to say to the media: I sure hope you're proud of yourselves. You took an image, a memory that means so much to the ones who participated in the games, and summed it up in one horrible episode of Hard Copy." (3/1/94)

"The one man who knows how to talk politics with sarcastic manner is Rush Limbaugh. Because he is also very long winded with a three-hour radio show, I wouldn't subject you to that. So, you have to find a Rush addict. Luckily, since they're everywhere and publicly let everyone know that, this won't be a hard task. Listen closely to your Rush addict. Find out what's the talk of the day, what's funny about it and what's so ridiculous." (3/11/94)

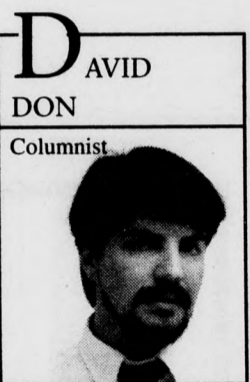

A. MARJORY KAMINSKI
Columnist

David Don
Bi-weekly columnist
Law student, second-year

"If campus rats have gourmet taste memories, perhaps their absence from the dining halls [while being spotted in 35 other places at ASU last year] can be explained without reference to the poison traps we set for them. Perhaps we don't have rats in the kitchens because of the function of a memorably unpleasant dining experience long ago, and the exercise of their limited free will not to repeat it." (2/8/94)

"Critics with the Clint Eastwood/Dirty Harry mentality will always view legal technicalities as a waste of time. The uneducated will always fear lawyers. And movies like "The Firm" and "Jurassic Park" will cater to their facile tastes." (3/8/94)

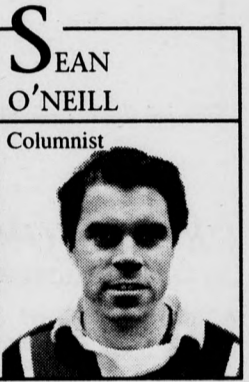

DAVID DON
Columnist

Sean O'Neill
Bi-weekly columnist
Senior, English

"Fraternities and sororities have been on this campus since the 1940s, longer than anyone who is part of ASU's administration. There are at least 18,000 Greek alumni of Arizona State University, and most keep shaking their heads in disgust. It's time for ASU to face the music — parties are part of college life." (1/25/94)

"[Farrakhan] labeled Judaism "a gutter religion," Israel "an outlaw state" and Hitler "a very great man." His remarks paid the consequences and his organization lost the chance to make money. Now, Farrakhan feels that he must convince the Black Muslims that the Jews are out to conspire against all of Black America, when in fact, they just dislike him." (4/1/94)

SEAN O'NEILL
Columnist

Melanie Selcho
Weekly columnist
Senior, journalism

"Let's not bring another team to Phoenix that we don't have the patience or commitment to support. Let's especially not raise our taxes so some citizens can go to the new stadium just to heckle the Phoenix baseball team or cheer for the opponent." (1/19/94)

"If I had an "A" for every time I've been asked about how I get enough calcium, I'd be in medical school. Calcium does not come from cows, it comes from minerals in the soil. The cow gets it from eating plants, we get it from drinking a cow's milk. All I do is bypass the middle stages. I get calcium the same way a cow gets it, and if you wanted to pump me with hormones and drink my milk, you would get enough calcium." (2/10/94)

"Governor Fife Symington said that if being an environmentalist puts the environment over property rights, he guesses he isn't an environmentalist anymore. Well, I guess if being a fascist precludes first amendment rights, I'm not a fascist." (3/3/94)

MELANIE SELCHO
Columnist

"From the time women know what the word, "rape," means until the time they die, they will fear it, never knowing if they will be the one in four attacked during their lifetime." (3/10/94)

Shayne Whitehead
Bi-weekly columnist
Senior, journalism

"It amused me when I boarded the tram and could still hear the [mall] preachers, who were standing several hundred yards away by the MU fountain. I can cope with their screams. I can cope with them singing "Amazing Grace" three steps out of key. And I can also cope with God never sending a lightning bolt when I ask for it." (3/31/94)

SHAYNE WHITEHEAD
Columnist

"You can fool some of the people all the time, and all of the people some of the time. The rest don't give a damn what you're doing any of the time." (4/21/94)

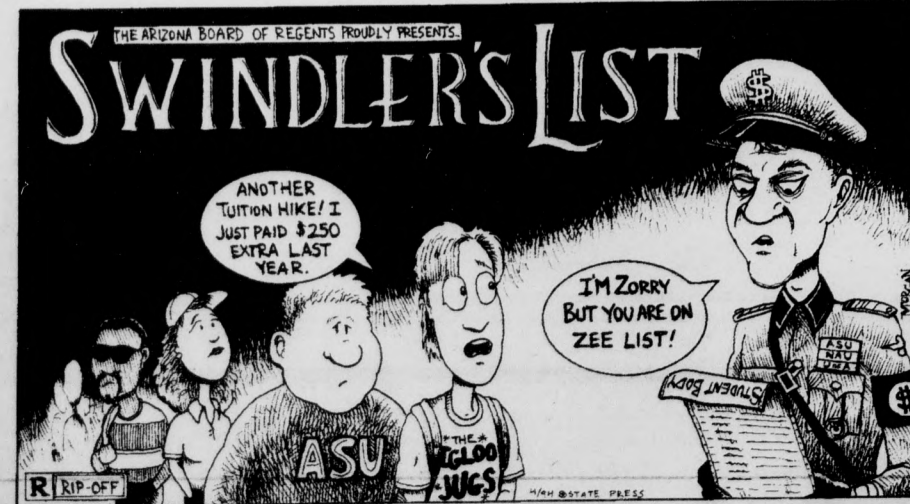

Diana Lopez
Bi-weekly columnist
Law student, second-year

"I think of [prejudice] every time someone says to me: 'You're what? Oh, well, I don't think of you as any different from me.' Often they say it proudly, as if it's some kind of badge of honor, living proof that, oh no, they aren't prejudiced." (2/18/94)

"As long as there are lawyers making jerks of themselves with their over-inflated egos and L.A. Law attitudes, the rest of us might just as well forget about convincing the public that the profession's good deeds outweigh the bad." (3/8/94)

Dreamed of jumping into Jell-O?

Do it today at the rec center to benefit leukemia

By CHRISTINA BAILEY
STATE PRESS

Watch it wiggle. See it jiggle. Three hundred gallons of cool, slippery gelatin ready for students to take a sticky plunge into, all in the name of charity.

Gelatin Splash '94 will be held today at the Student Recreation Center from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. For five dollars, students and faculty can "take the plunge," and for those who are not that ambitious, they can try to dunk someone for a dollar.

"It can be a lot of fun," said Donald Campopiana, program coordinator for the Leukemia Society. "How many people have thought about jumping in a tub filled with Jell-O before? Now they will have the opportunity."

The ASU chapter of the American Marketing Association is sponsoring the event and will award prizes to the top four fund-raisers. The plunger who raises the most money from getting people to pay to dunk them will win the grand prize, a weekend in San Diego, California, with VIP tickets to Sea World.

All the money and proceeds will help to fight the number one disease killer of children, leukemia. Over 80,000 Americans will be afflicted with this disease, said Campopiana.

The Leukemia Society currently supports over 200 researchers at universities and institutions throughout the United States and abroad. Two of them are at the University of Arizona.

ASU police reported the following incidents Thursday:

- A male ASU student was arrested, cited and released for possession of marijuana and unlawful use of a license at Manzanita Hall.
- A female ASU student reported that someone stole the rear tire from her mountain bicycle. She estimated the value of the tire at $40.
- A male ASU employee reported that someone caused $500 damage to a cement bench on the west side of Lyceum Theater.
- A male ASU employee reported that someone caused $125 damage to a vending machine at the Student Services Building.
- A male ASU employee reported that someone caused $350 damage to his car while it was parked in Parking Structure 4.

Tempe police reported the following incidents Thursday:

- A 42-year-old Tempe man died Tuesday from massive internal injuries he suffered when a scissor-lift collapsed and crushed him.

The man had been working on the lift when a loose hose caused the hydraulic pressure of the lift to relax. The man died during surgery at Scottsdale Memorial Hospital.

While conducting a surveillance at a Motel 6, 1612 N. Scottsdale Road, a police officer noticed a man sitting in a 1986 Nissan 200SX and decided to trace the license plate.

The check revealed that the car was stolen. When police searched the man, they found a 1/2 gram of a substance they believe to be methamphetamine. The suspect was also reportedly in possession of several forged checks.

He was charged with motor vehicle theft, possession of dangerous drugs, 12 counts of forgery, possession of burglary tools, two counts of theft and giving false information to a police officer.

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Don Henley and the Eagles found they could split. They just couldn't stay apart.

After going their own ways 14 years ago, Henley, Glenn Frey and other Eagles alumni are reuniting for a concert tour starting May 27.

"We have grown up some," Henley said Tuesday at the taping of an MTV special. "Doing the solo thing was nice, but there is something about being in a band that is magic."

For the show, they sang "Hotel California," "Life in the Fast Lane" and other 1970s Eagles hits.

"Band morale is high," Frey said. "Everybody is upbeat. We are having a good time. I couldn't be happier."

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP) — Giddy young girls by the hundreds stood in line for hours to meet Candace Cameron — a teen idol for the clean-cut set.

The 18-year-old actress who plays D.J. Tanner in the sitcom "Full House" came to a downtown mall Wednesday. Adoring fans ate up her fresh-scrubbed image. With autographs clutched tightly, many walked away out of breath.

"I think D.J. is really cool," said Shannon Loutitt, 9, who traveled four hours to see her. "She's smart, she's a good girl and she's not really wild."

Corinna Crockett, 13, likes "Full House" because it promotes family values. "They don't send out bad ideas for drinking and sex," she said.

Unlike earlier appearances in Canada, Wednesday's visit was calm. The actress drew more than 10,000 fans at a Winnipeg mall last month. One girl suffered a seizure and others collapsed.

A crowd of 2,000 teen-agers — worried they wouldn't get a chance to meet Cameron — rushed the stage at a mall in Nova Scotia the same weekend.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — At 75, folksinger Pete Seeger concedes that much of his vocal strength is gone.

"My voice is 75 percent gone," he says, "I haven't sung 'If I Had a Hammer' in 20 years. I just sing the first line and shout out the words for the audience to sing."

Seeger started his career in 1940, sharing the stage with other folksingers Woody Guthrie and Leadbelly.

He was in Portland to perform at a benefit Wednesday night for Pinosos y Campesinos Unidos del Noroeste — the Northwest tree-planters and farmworkers union. He also plans to help dedicate the union hall.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Britain's Prince Charles told Hungarian business leaders they're doing a bang-up job.

"It is impressive to witness the progress you have made since my visit of four years ago," he said Wednesday in the former communist nation.

Charles heads Business Leaders Forum Seminar, a group founded in February, 1990 as communist rule collapsed in Hungary.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A bad back sidelined singer Wynonna, who had to pass on appearances on the "Tonight Show" and a gospel music awards show.

She was hospitalized last week for a ruptured spinal disc and pinched nerve. Her doctor advised her Wednesday to rest until at least May 4 and undergo physical therapy, spokeswoman Elizabeth Thiels said.

She canceled appearances on the Gospel Music Association's Dove Awards show, Jay Leno's talk show and the Academy of Country Music Awards show.

Wynonna, 29, is known for her hit "No One Else on Earth." With her mother, Naomi, she formed the award-winning duet, the Judds.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lisa Marie Presley and her husband, musician Danny Keough, have separated and are planning to divorce.

"Danny and I will always love each other. However, friendship was more suitable for us than marriage," the 26-year-old daughter of Elvis Presley said in a statement Thursday.

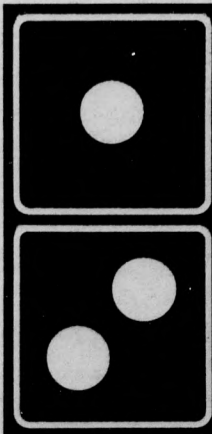

Miss Presley and Keough, 30, were married in 1988.

They will seek joint custody of their children, Danielle, 5, and Benjamin, 1.

Woman files restraining order against Giants' Bonds

Alleging that Barry Bonds threatened her son's life, a Riverside woman filed a petition for a restraining order against the San Francisco Giants star, a newspaper reported.

Shirley Lewis says in her petition that on April 7, "Barry Bonds came to my business and made threats on my son's life," the Riverside-Press Enterprise reported today.

Lewis and her son, Sam Green, work at a Riverside hair salon.

A message left with the team's public relations department was passed on to Bonds, who was playing in Montreal last night. He referred the matter to his agent, Dennis Gilbert.

A - 'WARD' WINNER

Craig Macnaughton/State Press
ASU golfer Wendy Ward has provided the No. 1 Sun Devils with team leadership in addition to her individual accomplishments. At a recent sports awards banquet, she received the Heather Farr Award, the Co-Student-Athlete of the Year Award and the team's Most Valuable Player Award.

Nation's top-ranked golfer sparks ASU's team unity

BY JULIE REUVERS
STATE PRESS

With her team five strokes off the lead and with just three holes left to play in the 1994 Pac-10 Championships on Wednesday, it would have been easy for ASU golfer Wendy Ward to think only of herself.

The top-ranked collegiate player on the nation's No. 1 team, Ward was also fighting to defend her individual conference title.

"I said, 'There's no way we're going to lose this tournament — We gotta go!'" Ward said about her reaction at the 15th hole. "I was trying to look down all the remaining fairways and trying to find my players and give them a pump of the fist and say, 'Come on, let's go.'"

A member of one of the elite women's lineups assembled in college golf, Ward has helped provide the Sun Devils with a motivational team atmosphere as well as polishing off her own incredible record.

In eight appearances this season, the native of San Antonio, Texas, has managed no less than eight top-10 finishes, having claimed medalist honors a total of four times. Ward's season stroke average of 73.47 is the team low.

"She's a hard worker, and she's also very dedicated and motivated," ASU coach Linda Vollstedt said of Ward. "But she's also very focused and she's a very strong goal-setter. ... She is very much a team player and also an excellent team leader."

At the first annual Wings of Gold/Heather Farr Awards Banquet on April 18, Ward came away with the Heather Farr Award, the Co-Student-Athlete of the Year Award and the golf team's Most Valuable Player.

"She's a good example and a really good student," said teammate Kristel Mourgue d'Algue, a native of France. "She cares about everybody on the team. For me, it was my first year here even though I'm a junior, but she made me feel like part of the team the first day."

Baseball looks for win over UCLA

BY TODD KELLY
STATE PRESS

Of ASU baseball coach Jim Brock's 1,055 career wins, 67 have come by defeating the UCLA Bruins. He'd like to have three more over the Bruins this weekend to stay in the Pac-10 Southern Division race.

"As far as any chance to win the conference championship, we're going to have to play extremely well this weekend," Brock said. "More than likely winning two of three would be minimal, but UCLA is a good enough ballclub where you never know. They do have three or four players that can hurt you."

The only school Brock's ASU teams have beat more than UCLA is UofA, having done it 91 times, including four times this season.

But the Bruins, themselves out of postseason play with a 14-28 record (7-14 Six-Pac), could spoil the Sun Devils chances of a second-straight conference title.

"I'm not sure it will have any material gain as far as we have a chance to have a regional anyway. I think we're already in postseason play," Brock said. "(But) we won the Six-Pac championship last year and it's a lot of fun."

The Sun Devils lead the Six-Pac in hitting with a .332 batting average, led by center fielder Jacob Cruz's .407. Cruz also leads the conference in hits with 85. In fact, the top four players in hits in the Six-Pac are Sun Devils: Antone Williamson with 71, Damon Lembi with 66, and Scott Shores, who has 65. Shores also leads the Six-Pac in home runs with 18.

Brock sounded satisfied with his team's accomplishments this season, despite some adversity.

"It's been good," he said. "Some ups and some downs but not too many. I think we've been able to fill in some areas where we were concerned, with Cody McKay not being able to play and seeing Jeff Rensmeyer come in and do as well as he has in that particular spot, and then of course Todd Cady. He's catching very well, but he's having trouble getting his timing back on his hitting."

"There's been the injury factors. But as it turns out, we've still won 35 and lost 14 and that's not too bad."

Softball travels to California, FSU

Brian Fitzgerald/State Press
Freshman pitcher Carrie James joins the ASU softball team on the road this weekend. The Sun Devils travel to California on Saturday and Fresno State on Sunday. They will attempt to even out the series with both teams.

ASU looks to even series, get revenge

BY TODD KELLY
STATE PRESS

The ASU softball team, winner of three of its last four games, is on the road again, this time with thoughts of revenge.

The Sun Devils (19-36 overall, 4-14 Pac-10) play at No. 14 California Saturday and at No. 6 Fresno State Sunday, where they will attempt to even out the season series with both teams.

"They're obviously still tough games," ASU head coach Linda Wells said. "Then we'll come home and play Oregon and Oregon State."

Earlier this season, the Golden Bears beat the Sun Devils 10-4 and 6-0 on March 12, on their way to a 37-17 overall record and an 8-10 conference record. Cal is fifth in the Pac-10, nine games behind first-place UofA.

The Bulldogs, 37-10 overall and 16-1 in the Western Athletic Conference, have defeated the Sun Devils two of three times

Banquet honors 2 ASU athletes

FROM STAFF REPORTS

Senior basketball player Stevin "Hedake" Smith and senior golfer Tracy Cone were named the Sun Angel Foundation Athletes of the Year Thursday at the foundation's banquet.

Cone is having the best year of her career and was an All-Pac-10 selection this season. She notched medalist honors at the prestigious Jostens/San Jose Tournament March 4-6, carding a low round of 71 while leading ASU to a first-place finish. She also finished in a ninth-place tie at the Pac-10 Championships.

Smith, the school's all-time leading scorer with 1,673 points, led the Sun Devils in points per game (18.5), minutes per game (38.5), assists (142), steals (70), field goals made (159), three-pointers made (96) and attempted (260) and free throws made (103) and attempted (133). Smith, who was named the team Most Valuable Player this season, is also the school leader in career steals with 246 and ranks third on the career assist chart at ASU with 416.

NFL releases 1994 game, television schedules

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1994 NFL schedule is filled with firsts, from Fox Network's opening telecast featuring Super Bowl champion Dallas vs. Pittsburgh to the first matchup of father and son coaches — Miami's Don Shula vs. Cincinnati's David Shula.

The Cowboys, under new coach Barry Switzer, begin their bid for an unprecedented third-straight Super Bowl title on Sunday, Sept. 4 when they visit Pittsburgh. It will be the first regular-season NFL game televised by Fox, which outbid CBS for rights to NFC games.

"We are very pleased with our inaugural 'NFL on FOX' schedule," Fox Sports president David Hill said Thursday after the league released its '94 regular-season schedule. "We've got the Super Bowl champion Cowboys 11 times and some great matchups, including (Joe) Montana's first ever game against his old mates in San Francisco and a rematch of the NFC championship game."

The Buffalo Bills, who have lost the last four Super Bowls, open their season Sept. 4 against the New York Jets.

The first Sunday night game on TNT will match San Diego at Denver. ABC's Monday night series kicks off its 25th year with the Los Angeles Raiders at the San Francisco 49ers. San Francisco receiver Jerry Rice needs only three touchdowns to pass Jim Brown as the NFL's all-time TD leader.

The second week of the season will be highlighted by Montana's matchup against the 49ers, the team he led to four Super Bowl championships. The 49ers visit Arrowhead Stadium on Sept. 11 to take on Montana's Kansas City Chiefs.

Norv Turner, who left his offensive coordinator job in Dallas to become coach in Washington, will lead his new team against his old team twice, on Oct. 2 in Washington and Nov. 20 in Dallas.

The battle of the Shulas will take place Oct. 2 in a Sunday night game in Cincinnati. Don Shula is the winningest coach in NFL history with a 309-143-6 mark, while son David is 8-24 in two years as the Bengals' coach.

Former Philadelphia coach Buddy Ryan and ex-Eagles Seth Joyner and Clyde Simmons return to the City of Brotherly Love on Nov. 6 with their new team, the Arizona Cardinals. The rematch will take place in Phoenix on Nov. 20.

Ryan also will return to Houston, where he was the defensive coordinator last season and where he threw a punch at Oilers' offensive coordinator Kevin Gilbride during a game against the New York Jets. Ryan's Cardinals play the Oilers in the Astrodome on Dec. 4.

The regular season concludes on Dec. 26, and the playoffs begin with wild-card games on Dec. 31 and Jan. 1. The divisional playoffs take place on Jan. 7-8, followed by the AFC and NFC championship games on Jan. 15.

The Super Bowl will be played two weeks later, on Jan. 29 at Miami's Joe Robbie Stadium.

The NFL returns to a single, bye-week schedule in 1994, with each team playing its 16-game schedule over 17 weeks.

Although Ward has enjoyed success in close to three years of collegiate golf, she hasn't always had it so easy. She said she experienced frustrations with the sport when she began competing nationally at the junior level. At first, she wondered if having her parents yell at her would improve things.

"A lot of the parents would say, 'How could you shoot 85? That's ridiculous,'" Ward said about players on the junior circuit. "I thought gosh, I could shoot 100 and my parents would still have their arms open. That's how they'd greet me. They'd say, 'Don't worry about it, you can work on it. It's not a problem, we still love you.'"

"At first I thought maybe I do need them to jump on my case. But I look back now and it was probably the best thing. If I would have had that on top of playing poorly and me myself saying, 'How could you have done that,' then that would have added to it."

A finance major, Ward spends many hours outside of golf on homework. She is on track to graduate in four years, something Vollstedt said happens rarely with golfers due to time constraints.

"There's no question she's going to graduate," Vollstedt said. "She figured out how to do that in four years, whereas most of my players just can't get it done in four years."

Although she would like to turn professional after she graduates, Ward said it is not something she thinks about every day. If she becomes an LPGA Tour member, Ward said she will definitely miss the team-atmosphere of collegiate golf.

"You compete on an individual level but when you add up all the scores and say, 'Hey, we won,' that's better than saying, 'I won a tournament,'" Ward said. "That's what I'll miss about collegiate golf."

Softball

this season.

"I want us to beat Cal," Lisa Dacquisto said. "I want to beat Fresno in the worst way. We have to beat them. Those girls are very cocky, snobby, and they're not very friendly. You want to beat teams like that because they deserve to get their butts kicked."

Leading the Sun Devils this season in hitting is sophomore Alyssa Johnson. Last week, Johnson lifted her batting average to .361 after an 8-for-21 burst. She hit two doubles and six RBIs, pushing her team-leading RBI total to 25.

"We're playing right along, doing well," Wells said. "I plan on playing Jeanne Redondo at shortstop. She's played better at shortstop and we've had more success with her."

Redondo, who normally plays first base, is just one Sun Devil finishing the season in unfamiliar territory. Tammy Lohmann, who started the season at shortstop, has watched the second half of the season from the sidelines due to injury. Catcher Wendy Johnson is expected to finish her ASU career playing first base.
